ANTICIPATING CHANGE

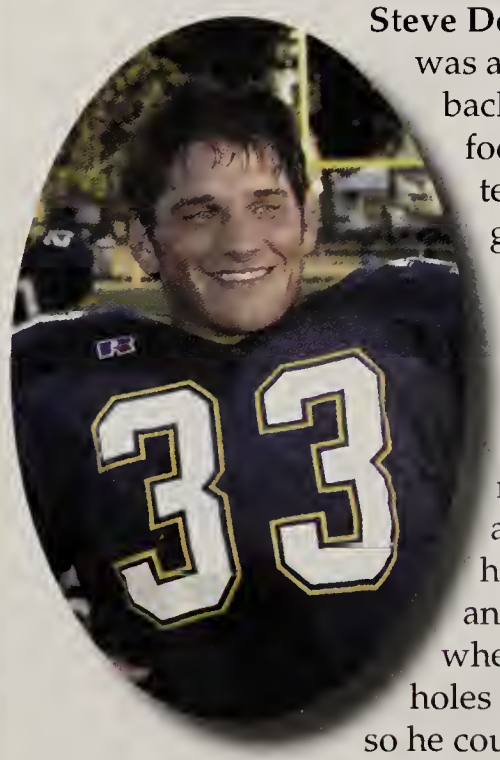
The 2003-2004 school year saw one of the biggest changes at Euclid High School since the incorporation of the ninth grade several decades ago. This was the implementation of the Transformation Initiative which changed the school into six smaller schools. The idea behind the smaller schools was that with smaller schools there would be a better relationship between students and teachers which would lead to a greater desire to learn on the part of the students which would lead to better attendance, more learning, less discipline problems, fewer fights, greater community involvement with the schools, better scoring on the proficiency tests and everyone living happily ever after. The problem was that it had to be done all at once and it had to be done so that the six smaller schools had to open in the fall of 2004. Some of the problems that arose from that was that staff that were working on reorganization were released from their classes so there were substitutes that had to take over for many teachers and counselors. This large change in personnel had to affect the learning process. Because the program was so new, no one knew where it was going or how to get there. There was certainly a lot of change going on throughout the year.



Steve Dominick was a running back for the football team and gained many yards with his powerful running. He always had to anticipate where the holes would be so he could get a good run.

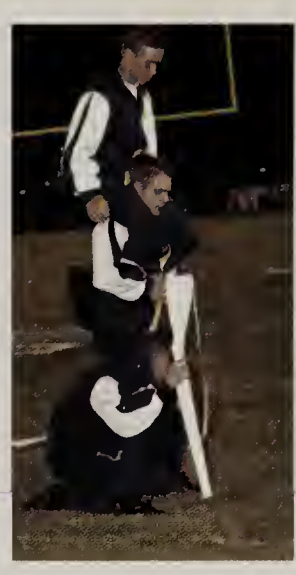
Jamal Wilson, Jennifer Crookall, Andrea Tarach and Brittany Sidak anticipate action for the year.

The Panther anticipates action on the field.

Mindy Gelofsack anticipated the view from the top.

Cassi Meier, Michelle Zudic, Kalie Simmerer, Erin Rice and Jennifer Crookall always tried to anticipate their opponent's actions on the soccer field.

Golf coach, Mr. Robert Torrelli, Explains to Zach Schlosser how to anticipate the motion on the ball.



Mike Shamlin acticipates problems as he climbs on top of Mike Valentine and Tim Ewing.

As the Varsity Chorale sang the National Anthem before each game the crowd anticipated what would be coming next.

Briana Strong and Chernita White anticipate being together for a long time.

Ms. Diane Tizzano directs the band and anticipates a very musical year for her students.

Michelle Zudic keeps her eyes on the ball as she anticipates what she will do next.

Averette Hagler catches the ball and anticipates getting a long gain.

Above: Zoe Harrold serves the ball and anticipates that it will land in the service court.

Stacy Pitrowski anticipates a kiss by the Panther while Brittany Sidak looks on.

ANTICIPATING CHANGE

A student's life was very different in the 2003-2004 school year. Many things were different than from previous years. There were so many unknowns that were going on because of the school transformation. One would have thought that seniors would be immune to these feelings since they would be gone by the time that the transformation was implemented in the fall of 2004. They were affected, however, since many of their teachers were involved in the design of the new schools and were either permanently out of class for the year or missing many days because of meetings. It was the underclass students that really experienced the major student life changes since they would be entering the transformed schools in the fall. Facing the unknown always was a scary feeling and because of so many unknowns about the structure of the transformed school there was much that the students were afraid of. This did not mean, however, that the students stopped participating in school events. Students went about their daily business, attended club activities and participated in sports. There still a life at Euclid High School.

FEELING RIGHT AT HOME

Spirit Week consisted of five days of dressing up prior to the Homecoming Game on Friday, October 3 and the Homecoming Dance on Saturday, October 4. Monday was "Hat Day", Tuesday was "Bad Hair Day", Wednesday was "Cleveland Sports Jersey Day", Thursday was "Decades Day" and Friday was "Blue and Gold Day". Lots of students had a good time throughout the week dressing up to match the theme of the day. The week ended with the annual Homecoming football game with the Lakewood Rangers. The game was very exhilariting and there was a large crowd to support the Panthers. Both teams had identical 4-2 records when they met in the cold, pouring rain. The cheerleaders were determined to Euclid a home victory. They got into the spirit and yelled themselves hoarse encouraging the team to fight. Euclid got behind early and as the night wore on both teams seemed to grow weary, but Euclid toughed it out and scored in the very last second. Unfortunately, it too little and too late and Lakewood won 21-13. There were many diehard fans who braved the weather to the very end and gave the team support and enthusiasm.

VEGAS NIGHTS

This year's Homecoming dance took place on Scturday, October 4, 2003, and was dubbed with the theme "Vegas Nights." The dance was held in the E-room ballroom, and it lasted from 8:00 intil 11: 00 P.M. The E-room ane ballroom were beautifully decorated by Student Council with lights, balloons, banners, decks of cards, and dice. Cards with the names of the students that came lined the walls of the ballroom to give it the Casino theme. The colors were red, black, gold, silver, and green. 700 tickets were sold to the dance which was the capacity of the E-room. More students would have come but they were limited to 700 by the fire department. Euclid High School was wonderfully represented by the stsudents who ran for the Homecoming Court. Archie Smith was crowned King, and Monique Drake was crowned Queen. This year's Prince was Ricardo Newell, and Andrea Tarach was chosen to be the Princess. The position of Sophomore Attendant was won by Ciera Pringle. After the dance ended, students were given a key chain, a Las Vegas cup, and a chocolate slot machine token to be taken home. Homecoming proved to be a fun night of dancing for all the students who attended.

-Holly Yanacek

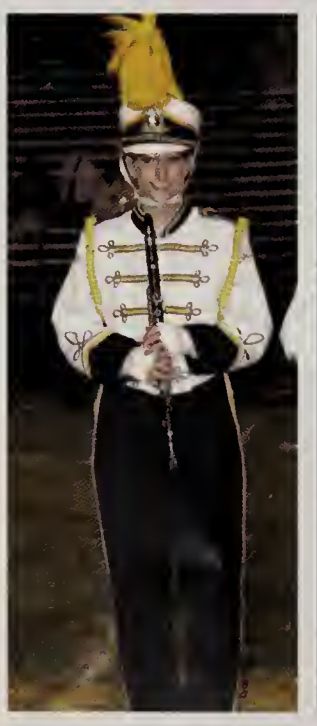
ANTICIPATING CHANGE

The Class of 2004 was lucky since they did not have to face the consequences that were involved with the Transformation Initiative. They entered Euclid High School with all of it's amenities as freshmen and were now in position to graduate from that same Euclid High School. During that time they matured just as all the fifty-four classes ahead of them did and were now in the position of entering the world of post high school education or work. The students schedules differed from previous years with the many Early Release Days that they had and the different teachers that they had in class due to the new principals being trained for the transformed school. The seniors were still the oldest class in the school and it's members were the students who participated in the most activities and worked the hardest to keep the school moving. The seniors were the most useful and the most helpful. They worked hard to get things done. They were the movers and the shakers.



Kate Kinison had a lot of fun playing her clarinet in the Marching Band while Anthem Doolan enjoyed announcing during the Homecoming ceremonies.

Talitha Smith and Tyeisha Johnson know that they have to understand the classroom material in order to do well on the tests.

Jon Suhy is very active throughout the school and enjoys going to all his classes.

SENIOR DIVIDER

Archie Smith leads the blocking for Delano Rodgers as they attempt to get around the left side of the offensive line.

Members of the Mediators worked hard to learn how to control potentially explosive situations between students.

Left: Cassi Meier, Steve Dominick, Michelle Zudic and Dave Goda had a nice experience at Homecoming.

Paul Pannell and Chris Seawright like to work with computers since they know that computer literacy will be important after they graduate.

Rahul Malik and Claudio Gentile study networking of computers and how everything must work together.

Zoe Harrold, Elise Braunschweig, Michelle Zudic and Amelia Mehtar trying to learn their physics from Mr. Robert Torrelli.

Seniors and juniors behaved well during the motivational assembly that they attended.

GETTING READY FOR THE REAL WORLD

Seniors are being prepared for the world after graduation

In order to graduate all seniors had to pass the Ninth Grade Proficiency Exam. This showed that the students had at least a rudimentary amount of information and that they should be able to function in the real world. Many Euclid seniors had a lot of enthusiasm for life and all that would be necessary to succeed in it. Life would be difficult but many were prepared for it.

The girls who played in the third annual Powder Puff football game and the boys who coached them had a lot of fun even though it rained throughout the game.

Amber Devese and Monique Drake and their parents were honored at the last football game.

Gionna Parker comes around the right end for a good gain in the third annual Powder Puff football game.

Seniors involved in fall sports were recognized with their parents at the last football game of the season.

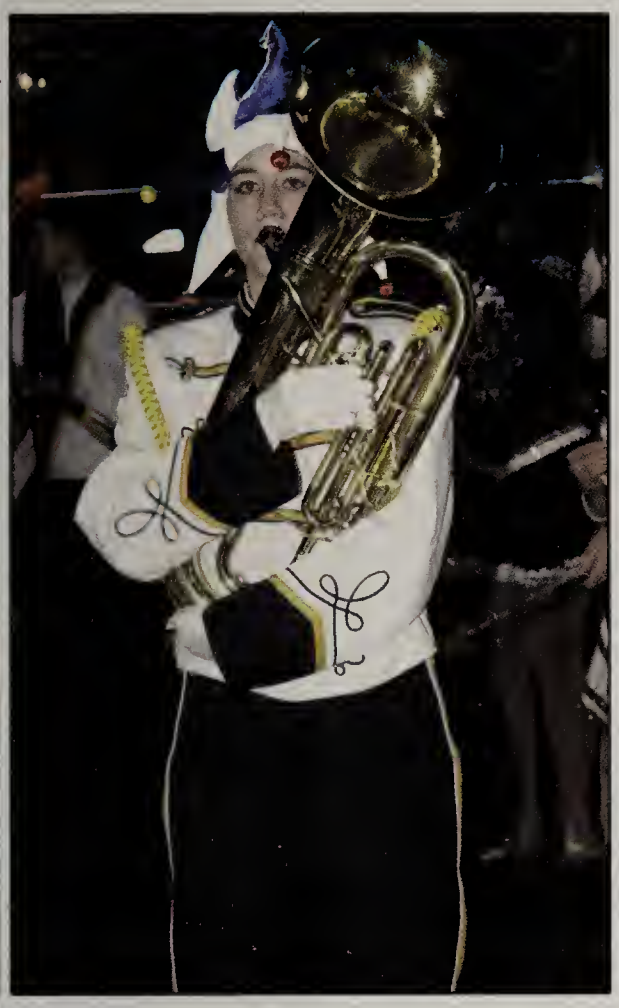
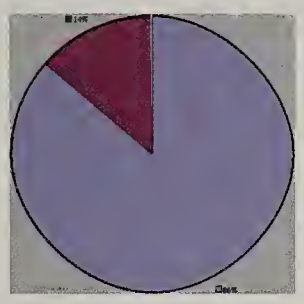
SENIORS BELIEVE THAT ATTENDANCE IS IMPORTANT



Jessica Oslund knows that it is important to be in school every day and does her best to have good attendance.



Do you believe it's important to be in school every day?

Seniors were polled as to whether they thought that it was important to be in school every day. 86% of the seniors who responded said that attendance was important. This was markedly high that in the previous when only 74% thought that attendance was important.

Kim Carotenuto enjoys all the time she spends with the Flag Corps and in school. She knows that being in school is a learning experience and that attendance is important. She has attended Euclid schools all her life and has only missed three days of school during that time.

Dennis Horvath and Sterling Keaton work hard in class to try to understand as much as they can.

Above: Tamekia Henderson knows that gaining skills in the chemistry laboratory will make it easier for her to succeed in the world after she graduates.

Below: Archie Smith was the Homecoming King and was a very popular candidate.

Getting help in calculus. Mr. Dan Wensing explains problems to Elise Braunschweig and Natalie Greene.

Dontay Sankey, Paul Pannell and Marshaun Khan hope to understand what is needed for success.

SENIOR'S FAVORITES

Members of the senior class liked many teachers

The class of 2004 responded to a poll in which they were asked who their favorite teacher was. Forty-five teachers were mentioned by members of the senior class as being their favorite. There was very little difference separating the top vote getter from the least but in the end Mr. Bill Von Benken received the most votes. Mr. Matt Allison and Mrs. Jo-Rita Perez were tied for second place. The three tied for third place were Ms. Sue Amato, Ms. Barbra Spiga and Ms. Tracy Wienhold. The four tied for fourth place were Mr. Mike Fording, Mrs. Beverly House, Mr. Roy Pignatiello and Mr. Ron Zucca. The six teachers tied for fifth place were Mr. Al Bartucci, Mrs. Janet Federer, Mr. John Hammond, Mr. Steve Marcu, Mrs. Shon Smith and Ms. Jean Wroblewski. The rest of the teachers who received at least one vote in no particular order were: Mrs. Ingrid Koenig, Mr. Morris Ervin, Mrs. Barbra Masseria, Mr. Matt Young, Mrs. Michelle Mc Garry, Mrs. Margaret Metti, Ms. Cindy DeLong, Mr. Brad Findlayson, Ms. Katie Morris, Mr. George Henderson, Mrs. Kimberly Fish, Mr. Jim Kennedy, Mr. Barry Mita, Mr. Bob Torrelli, Mr. Greg James, Mr. Bill Gray. Mr. Larry Isaacs, Mrs. Kathleen Johnson, Mrs. Sue Withers, Mrs. Tina Elliott, Mrs. Ellen Klein, Mrs. Chris Kaiser, Ms. Laura Boyd, Ms. Kathleen Mc Donnal, Mrs. Marketa President, Mr. Dale Hollingsworth, Ms. Diane Tizzano, Mr. Scott Wilson and Mr. Mike Rezzola.

Mrs. Marketa President and Ms. Sue Amato are some of the teachers that were favored by the senior class.

Mr. Barry Mita helps Cassie Taylor understand what she is seeing as she looks through the microscope.

Right and Far Right: Mr. Bob Torrelli and Mr. Steve Marcu work with their students so they gain a better understanding of what is expected of them.

Left: Ms. Jean Wroblewski holds up Marching Band information that she has run off on the copy machine.

Mr. Ron Zucca interacts with his classes to give them an opportunity to succeed in life.

LADIES NIGHT OUT

Wet weather couldn't dampen spirits at third annual Powder Puff game

Members of the Blue Team were all ready to go at the beginning of the game.

The third annual Powder Puff football game was held on Tuesday, October 28 in the stadium. The event gained popularity among the participants since it gave the girls a chance to play football with a team. The only down side was a drizzle that occurred throughout the game which cut down on the number of spectators but failed to decrease the enthusiasm that the girls exhibited on the field. The girls really played hard and with great determination as was evident by the amount of mud and grass stains on their clothes and bodies. Boys provided the cheer leading for the support of the players on the field. The Gold Team scored first and was ahead 8-0 when the blue scored to make it 8-6. Each team scored again to make it 14-12 in favor of the Gold. The Gold team made another touchdown on the last play of the game to make it 20-12. It was a fun game that was enjoyed by all.

HOW EMBARRASSING

Seniors reveal how they got caught with a red face

Were you ever embarrassed? Everyone has been at some time in their lives. Most people just forget them and they were never heard again. Some seniors, however, remembered some of their most embarrassing moments and were willing to share them with the entire school. Some students had some really interesting moments.

Chioke Barkari was escorted to class in tenth grade after being caught in the girl's restroom after the bell rang without a hall pass.
Shawn Black was embarrassed when he had a bad hair cut.
Elise Braunschweig got out of the car before school and noticed she was weaaring two different shoes. She had to walk through the halls with Skechers on one foot and Adidas on the other until her mother brought her another shoe.
Floyd Breazeale fell while running up stairs and a security guard saw him and began laughing.
Kara Brehm was embarrassed when she totally wiped out on her snowboard in front of some really hot guys during Ski Club her junior year.
Greg Brinovec tripped up the stairs.
Kimberly Carotenuto was performing with the Flag Corps during halftime of a basketball game. They were doing a kick line and her hair piece fell out in front of everyone.
Jennifer Crookall was embarrassed when her shoe flew off.
Brandy Churney was walking into school as a freshman in the winter with two of her friends when she fell flat onto her back. Everyone began laughing but when she finally got into school she had to go to the nurse because her hand was bleeding .
Kay Dawson was meeting her boyfriend for the first time when she put her pants on backwards. She had to call him using a pay phone and when she got back into the ear her pants split down the back and she had no cover up or back up clothes.
Jennifer Eastburn was walking through the snow after school and was wearing slide-in dress shoes. Lori Leppelmeier was in front of her so she was trying to follow in Lori's footsteps. She picked up her foot to discover that one shoe was missing and she couldn't find it. She had to walk all the way to the car with only one shoe.
Jennifer Eastburn was messing around with Sam Morris and they got into a shoving match which resulted in Sam getting pushed into the fire extinguisher and the glass broke all over the floor.
Jamie Gabriel ran into a locker looker at Skittle.
Claudio Gentile was embarrassed when Mrs. Tina Peterson kept accusing him of making out with his girl friend backstage during the Spring Play in ninth grade.
Steve Gliha slid head first down the hallway after a basketball game and split his chin open.
Natalie Greene woke up for SAT's five minutes after she was supposed to be there. She threw on a sweatshirt and got to school, ran down the hall and made it just in time...in her pajamas.
Jethro Guilamo almost tripped in the hallway but recovered without a problem.
Erin Gutbrod was a freshman when she got down on her knees and proposed to a security guard. He said yes, but it didn't work out.
Shivon Jackson was at basketball practice as a freshman and farted really loud. The whole team just looked at her and then began laughing. They called her "pootie" all season
Shanna Jones was an office runner third period her junior year when she bent down to pick up something and split her pants but didn't realize it. It was only seventh period when she was another office runner and Monique Drake said something that she realized that her pants were split. She was surprised that nobody said anything before then.
Chris Kinison fell up the stairs several times.
Rebecca Kinison also tripped up the stairs.
Emily Kliever was in the lunch line getting ready to pay when her tray flipped over and she got chicken nuggets and barbeque sauce all over herself. Everyone stared at her.
Catherine Lapczenski was being tickled by Terry Holden in the E-room when she fell out of her chair.

SAY SOMETHING

Lori Leppelmeier got into a popsicle fight with Sarah Cosmo in the cafeteria and they both had to walk around all day with red popsicle all over them.
Emily Mc Ilvaine was about to take a test as a sophomore when she opened a carton of chocolate milk and spilled it all over herself, the desk and the test. She had the milk in class since she didn't have a lunch period since she was taking so many classes.
Lindsay Mc Gill was skipping school with a bunch of boy friends when her boyfriend drove by and caught her.
James Mihalco was wearing his ROTC unifor with nothing but a muscle shirt underneath when he walked into homeroom and everyone laughed.
Andrew Misiak took a half hour to find his locker on his first day of school as a freshman.
Julia Myers tripped over the speed bump in the parking lot.
Rashaad Newsom was going home on the bus when it had a breakdown and everyone had to walk home. He was embarrassed because he was wearing a fishnet shirt and some long johns with a house shoe on one foot and a church shoe on the other because it was mis match day for Homecoming.
Mary Jo Osterman was a sohomore in lunch when she was returning her tray andf slipped in some gravy on the floor. Both legs went flying in the air and she fell on her booty. Everyone in the whole cafeteria saw it and were laughing hysterically. Especially her crush at the time who still talks about it.
Trevor Potulski dropped his books after he ran into a door.
Rhiannon Reese tripped on the stairs.
Michelle Riendeau went to the Halloween Dance as a freshman dressed as Brittney Spears in her "Baby One More Time" attire. After arriving she realized the dance was not a costume dance but a casual dress dance and she was the only one dressed up. She left early.
Ashley Robertson was embarrassed when the top of her dress fell down at the 2002 Prom.
Courtney Rodgers was playing an away basketball game as a freshman. It was near the end of the second quarter when her bra became loose and everyone could see her straps falling off. She had to play the last two minutes of the half before she could fix her bra. She never forgot her sports bra after that.
Teri Roche was a junior when she stepped on the back of Abby Pataet's pants. The pants tore and both girls fell into the doorway of the classroom and fell down with Teri on top.
Crystal Sutton was in the ninth grade and had gotten dressed up so she could go out after school. During lunch she spilled ketchup on her shirt and had to go through the rest of the day with her ID at the top of her shirt.
Valerie Taddie was embarrassed when someone told her she had a rip in her pants.
Andrea Tarach tripped over a flag from the Flag Corps in the auditorium while going up the stairs by the stage after filling out the senior survey.
Cassie Taylor pole vaulted at a track meet and bounced off the mat and ran into the standards.
Autumn Tipton lost a bet and had to kiss a bald guy on the head in the library.
Jonel Wallace was so lost when she first came to Euclid High School. She read her schedule incorrectly and went to every class in the wrong period. She would be in a class and they would tell her that she didn't belong there.
Jocelyn Willingham had to stand up in class in the fifth grade because she didn't have her homework. It made her cry.

SENIOR'S ACTIVITIES

Many seniors participated in Euclid's opportunities

There were a wealth of activities that Euclid students could participate in during their years at Euclid High School. If a student was interested in sports, Euclid had a complete lineup of freshmen, JV and varsity teams in every popular type. If the student wanted to help others there were service organizations like Key Club to fill the need. If you wanted to help the school there was student Council. If you wanted to help the earth there was SAVE. Students could learn about other cultures and other people and the way other governments worked. There were many organizations that students could participate in and if there wasn't an appropriate organization students could get together and form a new club if they could find an adviser for the group. Students were only limited by their own imaginations.

ANTICIPATING CHANGE

Sports were a very important part of life for many of the students at Euclid High School. Euclid offered all of the major sports that were popular among the schools in the area. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors were able to join almost any sport that they chose. Most could go into a level that would be suitable for their skill level such as Freshmen, Junior Varsity or Varsity. Anyone could join sports such as football, tennis, golf, volleyball, soccer, cross-country, basketball, wrestling, hockey, track, swimming, baseball and softball. Hockey, wrestling, golf, tennis and track did not have any Freshman or JV teams but that was only because there were not enough students interested in the sport. Participation in athletics was an excellent way for students to improve their skills and learn about other people.

SPORTS DIVIDER

An often repeated scene that Euclid fans were treated to throughout the season was Steve Dominick blocking and Delano Rodgers rushing through the line for a good gain.

Allie Montague rushes to get to the ball so she can get it down the field.

Carl Morris watches as Dave Swansegar brings the ball down the field.

Monique Drake serves the ball to try to earn a point for her team.

The boys on the cross country team practiced by running around the track and throughout the neighborhood of Euclid.

GAME REALLY CLOSE TO PLAYOFFS

Varsity had a good game against Mentor and almost got to the playoffs

The 2003 Euclid Panther Football team finished with a 6-4 record. One more victory would have qualified them for the playoffs. They lost close games to teams that made the playoffs. They lost 14-7 to Mentor, who was ranked second in the state at the time. They beat a very strong Strongsville team 33-14. They also beat an undefeated Garfield Heights team 35-19.

The football team was led by captains: Brandon Smith, who had 123 tackles for the year, Delano Rodgers, who was the fifth leading rusher in Euclid history, fourth in total offense, and first in career passing, Chris Seawright, who was the top defensive back on the team, and Steve Dominick, who was the leading receiver. Brandon Smith and Chris Seawright were picked for Division I first team defense by the News Herald. Delano Rodgers was picked for the second team offense and Thaddeus Gibson and Averette Hagler were picked for second team defense. Keith Morris was given a special mention and Tajadean Mc Coy, Mario Milicic, Valentino Halton, Chris Parrish, Shaun Paythress, Steve Dominick and Jamall Javey were given an honorable mention. Coach Mike Rezzolla commented, "We lost quality seniors and young men this year, it will be hard to replace them. I will miss them all."

-Matt Zuzic

One of the reasons for the Panthers winning season was the running and passing of quarterback, Delano Rodgers

Far Right: Before he got injured, Archie Smith was a good ball carrier and blocker for Delano Rodgers or any other ball carrier.

Chris Seawright holds the ball so that Scott Satter can try for the extra point after the team scored a touchdown.

One of the problems that occurred during the season was that Archie Smith suffered a knee injury in the Strongsville game and missed a lot of games.

Freshmen football runs over their opponents

The varsity football team runs through the banner that the cheerleaders made for them before the game with Strongsville.

The freshmen runners ran through their opponents line almost as easily as they ran through this banner that the cheerleaders made for them.

Checking to see if his son is all right. Averette Hagler's father makes sure he is ok after being hit and suffering a concussion on a tackle. He missed the rest of this game but was ready to go for the next one.

Below: Trainer, Wendy Kubala checks out a cramp in Averette's calf during a game. He was able to get right back into the game.

Chris Seawright waits for the ball to be snapped so he can run his pattern and hopefully get a reception.

Isaac Gray points out where he will be playing when the ball is snapped.

Rico Duncan makes a cut to his right to try to evade a defender as he carries the ball into the line.

Delano Rodgers carries the ball into the line in hopes of getting away from the defenders.

Steve Dominick gets ready to block for the ball carrier before he hits the line.

AIMING FOR A HOLE IN ONE

Golf team showed improvement over last year's record

The Golf team had a successful 2003 season. They ended with an overall record of 9-8 and had a 5-4 record in the L.E.L. which meant that they finished in fourth place in the conference. In addition, this year was the second one that they participated in the annual "Mayor's Cup". Last year they were defeated by VASJ but this year they were able to win the challenge so the cup resided at Valid High School until the next Mayor's Cup match in 2004. The Varsity team consisted of Sam Morris, Nick Fortunato, Zach Schlosser, Josh Blaha, Matt Kozlowski and Sean McConnell. They were coached by Mr. Robert Torrelli and Mr. Gus Baca.

The 2003 Euclid Girls' Cross Country team experienced a challenging but exciting season. The girls practiced with the Boys Cross Country team, and they were under the combined leadership of Head Coach, Mr. Ed Klein and Assistant Coach, Mr. Paul Nielsen. Throughout the season, the number of girls participating dwindled until only five remained. Cherice May, the team's most accomplished runner, placed very well in all of the races that she ran. Cherice placed in districts and advanced to regionals. Freshmen Ashley Jones and Arrionne Nolcox both worked very hard to improve their times. Sophomores Cassie Hilston and Holly Yanacek also contributed greatly to the team. Jessica Cunningham, Dominique Bates and Tameka Greene ran with and helped out the team during most of the season. Everyone improved their times and received good places in the meets.

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT

The 2003-2004 Euclid Panther Boys' Basketball team showed improvement over the previous year and finished with an overall record of 10-10 and 4-6 in the L.E.L. The team worked hard but just did not have the offense of previous years and seemed to run out of gas at the end of each game. The season consisted of many low scoring games in which the Panthers were not able to score even 50 points. Some of the JV games had higher scores than the varsity. Also, the Panthers had the lead throughout the third quarter but then did not maintain the fight and went into a prevent mode and eventually lost the lead and the game. One really bright star in the Panthers lineup was Desmond Motley who was one of the leading scorers and rebounders on the team. He had the ability to get open under the basket and to make the shot and was one of the important factors that kept the Panthers in the game. The good news was that Desmond was only a sophomore and had two more years to improve. Head Coach, Sean O'Toole, said the team worked hard together but just couldn't get the breaks that it needed.

Above: Dwayne Chappell dribbles the ball down the court anticipating that he will be able to pass it off and set up a basket.

DRIVING FOR THE BASKET

The 2003-2004 Euclid Girls' Basketball team worked hard and showed some very good results for the season with a 12-7 overall record. The season began with a high with a win over VASJ but then took a down turn when they lost to Shaker Heights in a very sloppy game. They then got some good wins and it looked as if they were going to be a force until they seemed to lose the touch and began falling behind the leaders. LeShay Johnson was the spark plug for the team throughout the year with her passing and shooting and overall ball handling. The team also had players like Jazmine Bell, Mikita Duncan and Daniqua Dothard who helped make the season a successful one. The high point of the season, however, came when the Panthers beat North 51-41 for the Division I sectional title at Perry's Spectator Gymnasium. It was the first time any of the members had won a sectional game and North had not lost a sectional game since 1996. Coach, Lynn Phillips wanted her players to stick to their game and keep pressure on the opponents at all times.

COMPETITION ON THE MAT

Wrestling team shows improvement but still needs more participation

The 2003-2004 Euclid Panther Wrestling Team experienced a season that was full of surprises. Overall, the team improved and they won some matches and came close to winning others. They were able to post wins over Chardon and West Geauga. Steve Dominick, Nick Kelly and Myron Mc Connell were the workhorses for the team and scored many victories. One major problem, however, was that there just wasn't enough wrestlers to fill all the weight classes and some weights had to be forfeited. With the supportive help of the coaches, Head Coach, Mr. Joe Tucceri, and Assistant Coaches, Mr. Mike Turk, Mr. Greg Sattler, and Mr. Anthony Ranallo, team members were able to develop their skills and get more pins.

NEEDED MORE PARTICIPATION

Hockey needed more players to put on the ic

2004 was not an exceptional year for the Panther hockey team. Finishing the season with an overall record of 6-18-2 and 2-10 in the G.C.H.S.H.L. which put them in fifth place in the Blue Central Division. They didn't have enough players to be able to skate competitively with the other schools. Adding to that was the usual injuries that always occur and the season was not an unqualified success. The players played hard and practiced diligently but it just was too tiring when the same players had to be on the ice for long periods of time. Mr. Frank Soltesz was the coach for the team and was assisted by his son, Frank A. Soltesz who was a former hockey player for the Panthers.

BRINGING THE OUTDOORS, INDOORS

2004 was no different from previous years for the Indoor Track Teams since they were able to post many victories over the teams that they competed against. The indoor season enabled the participants to get in shape for the spring outdoor season. Both teams had a lot of talent and the coaches thought that they had several runners who would go far in the outdoor season. The indoor season helped the athletes perfect their timing and coordination for the upcoming meets.

STROKING FOR SUCCESS

The 2004 Euclid Panther Boys' Swim team was excellent, having a winning record of 6 and 12, at .500. The whole team helped to win in their own part, from relays, sprints, and distances. Two seniors, Jonathon Suhy and Brian Schweikert were excellent assets to this great team, and they will be missed. The boys' captains, Jon Suhy and Andrew Jurcak helped to get the whole team motivated and ready to swim their meets to the best of their ability. Zach Schlosser led the diving boys and even qualified for districts. This team had the leadership from a great coach, Mr. John Elliot, who strove for the best out of his swimmers. From all the fun and great kid on this team, they will be number one in years to come.

KEEPING THE SPIRITS HIGH

The 2003-2004 Panther cheerleader staff consisted of many girls and boys who were dedicated to the idea that they would put on an appealing show for the fans. One big difference between this year and the former ones were the number of mounts that the members provided. The team did their best to get as many members off the ground as they could which lead to a different visual effect. Directed by Mrs. Jennifer Teknipp the members worked hard to bring the cheer leading routines into a third dimension of height. You could say that the cheerleaders went to great heights to have a successful season.

ANTICIPATING CHANGE

One of the benefits of attending Euclid High School was the opportunity to participate in many extracurricular activities. For many students the day ends at 2:25 p.m. and they were out of the building by 2:30. But for many students 2:30 signaled the beginning of the second part of their school day. Many students were involved in interscholastic sports and many others were members of some of the many clubs and activities that were available to all students. From Art Club to S.A.V.E. and everything in between a student would be able to find a group of other students who had an interest in what they were interested in.

MUSIC ON THE FIELD

Marching Band added color and motion to the pre-game and half time festivities

The Euclid Panther High School Marching Band had an immense amount of power this year. Pre-game blasted off with the strong melody of "Emperata Overture". Following that was Euclid High School's "Alma Mater", the "Star-Spangled Banner", and the "Fight Song". There were a lot of experienced players, being led by Field Commanders Paul Serwatka, Courtney Biehl, and Cathleen Zalewski, as well as Ms. Tizzano (director), Ms. Wroblewski (assistant director), Mrs. Ewing (auxiliary), Miss Ewing (auxiliary), and Mr. Trzcinski (percussion). Haynes (tuba), Elise Braunschweig (flute), Kim Carotenuto (flag corps), Jamie Gabriel (majorettes), and Jackie Vazquez (rifle). Show 1 showed explosive performances with "Joy to the World", "Respect", "E-Town" and the famous tradition of pulsating drum breaks and dances. The Squad Leaders consisted of Elyse Hilston (clarinet), Becky Kinison (clarinet), Chris George (alto saxophone), Gretchen Gudaitis (trumpet), Rob Vazquez (percussion), Amanda Hayes (flute), Rachel Sova (flag corps), Monica Dorsey (flag corps), and Katlyn McTighe (flag corps). The Euclid High School Marching Band performed at many great places, including Cedar Point, Midpark Festival, and Perry High School Festival. Cedar Point was really awesome. They marched through the park for a bit, playing their tunes, and then they got to just go and goof off. The students had a marvelous time. At the end of the summer, the members went to Band Camp, which was tough, but they got lots of good practice out of it. The band performed at all of the football games. They also presented a concert in the gym after the end of the football season. A highlight of the year was their trip to Disney World in November before Thanksgiving break. The members endured a long bus ride to Florida and back, but they had a lot of fun playing in the parades and visiting the parks.

WAVING THEIR FLAGS IN THE BREEZE

Flag Corps had lots of fun marching and twirling their flags

The Majorettes began their season with the Marching Band when they began practicing at the school in August. They learned all the routines that they would need throughout the season as they performed at the many football games. They sweated through band camp and all the hot days of the summer so they could have fun marching and waving their flags during the football season. They worked hard at keeping together and making their performances memorable.

AND DANCING

excitement to the Holiday Concert

On Thursday, December 11, 2003 the music department at Euclid High School presented it's annual Holiday Concert in the auditorium The choral part of the show consisted of selections presented by Varsity Chorale, Choral Masters, the Concert Choir and Forte. Varsity Chorale began the show with their quick paced, enthusiastic singing and dancing. This was followed by the Concert Choir which presented several holiday selections. Forte was the next group that had their chance to express to the audience their appreciation of the holiday season. After that, the Choral Masters finished up the choral section of the program with selections like: O Come All Ye Faithful, The First Breath of Winter, Noel, I've Got My Love To Keep Me Warm, Festival Deck the Hall and Silent Night. The concert was very well put together and the students worked very hard and gave an excellent performance.

The students in The Euclid High School Marching Band had Concert Band to look foreward to as the Marching Band season ended. Concert Band musicians endured many long hours of practicing with their instruments during homeroom, in class, and after school. The students in Concert Band worked hard to learn all of the music that they performed at their winter concert with the orchestra on February 3, 2004, in the auditorium. Concert Band performed a variety of songs at that concert including: Amparito Roca, Three Old American Ballads, Tandredi, Majesta, The Civil War, and John Williams in Concert. The band was under the leadership of Director, Ms. Diane Tizzano, and Assistant Director, Ms. Jean Wrobewski.

JOHN LENNON AND ME

Fall Play explored relationships between students with severe illnesses

This year's Fall Play was John Lennon and Me. The title was deceiving because the play had nothing to do with John Lennon. It was about Star (Brittany Spicer), who had cystic fibrosis, a disease that was always fatal. She stayed in a place called Heart House. Star got a new roommate Courtney(Emily Kliever) who was her age and they became good friends. One problem about Star was that she liked to stretch the truth which got her into all sorts of problems.

The play was done by a talented group of students. Brittany Spicer played the star of the play, Star. This freshman was extremely talented and it really showed during her performance. Also with leading roles were Emily Kliever as Courtney, Tara Toth as Sally Kasem, and Meredith Wise as Nurse Janice. Rounding out her fourth play, Emily gave a very excellent performance. Tara Toth really showed that she could act. This was her second play at Euclid. Meredith played a live-in nurse who was very perky. She stole the show every time she went on stage. Chernita White played Star's mother finishing her third fall play. Amber Lynch didn't play a character but helped greatly in the production of the play

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student Council is the organization that makes everything happen

Many students took part in Student Council, the governing student body of EHS. These students showed a tremendous amount of school spirit throughout the year. With the help of the advisers, Ms. Stephanie Norris and Ms.Michelle Rymarczyk, student council planned many important school events. Students in student council worked hard to plan spirit weeks as well as the Homecoming and Winterfest dances. Another event student council helped with was the blood drive that was held during school hours. One of the highlights for student council members was the Student Council Junior Olympics that took place on January 30, 2004. Student Council was led by President, Emily Kliever, and Vice President, Michelle Zudic.

They learned about naval life in class, and they practiced marching and coordinating their motions. They attended several drill and rifle competitions throughout the year in which they competed with similar teams from other schools. They also supplied color guard for all of Euclid's football games, some basketball games, commencement, as well as some other assemblies. Graduates had an opportunity to go into the military or attend college where they participated in R.O.T.C. programs if they wished. CDR. William Gray and SGTMAJOR. Larry M. STARS IN THE CITY

Winterfest Dance offered fun time for all who attended

The annual Winterfest dance took place on Saturday, February 21, 2004 in the E-room ballroom. Students that cam enjoyed three hours of fun beginning at 8:00 p.m.. Stars in The City was sponsored by Student Council and cost $15 per person. There were about 350 students who attended the regal event. The entrance resembled that of a park and the students entered the ball room via a stone walkway. The dance floor was decorated to resemble a club. There were balloons with gold stars on the ceiling, inflatable musical instruments hanging on the walls, and a duck pond on a pool table. The Winterfest Court was announced and Jon Calabrese was King. Michelle Riendeau was Winterfest Princess and Shivon Jackson was the Queen. The music was provided by NRG D.J.'s who made sure to mix up the music selection to please everyone. Each person went home with a few souvenirs as a remembrance of their wonderful time at the Winterfest Dance.

DOING THINGS DIFFERENTLY

Different cultures look at events in different ways

AFS (American Field Service) was a club whose members were interested in making contact with students from other countries and to learn about their cultures. AFS was a international organization which would enable students from other countries to visit America for a year and allow Americans to visit foreign countries in exchange. Mrs. Pamela Graham was the adviser for the group.

Got trouble with someone bothering you? Many students did and when that happened there was often a conflict between the two parties which led to physical confrontations. Conflicts didn't always have to lead to violence. Sometimes mediation provided an answer. Mediators were students who were trained in techniques useful for resolving tense situations. If a teacher saw a situation developing in class they could refer the students to mediation where the offenders would explain their situation to the mediators who would then come up with a remedy for the problem. It worked since the situation was explained to an impartial panel of mediators who could think about a solution in a logical manner. If the offenders still couldn't work out their problems they were disciplined by the Unit Offices. Ms. Kathleen Mc Donnell was the adviser for the group.

HELPING AROUND THE SCHOOL

Many students loved to help other people. If this was the case they got an opportunity if they were an Office Aide or a Clinic Aide. In a school of over two thousand students, hundreds of faculty members, dozens of secretaries and many counselors or administrators there were many jobs that could be done by students who were willing to help. They helped the secretaries and counselors by filing reports and records, running errands, sharpening pencils, delivering call slips to students in classes and many of the hundreds of little jobs that were necessary to conduct daily school business. In the clinic they did some of the same things but also got a chance to participate in some health related tasks such as taking temperatures and administering to students who were not feeling well. There were many ways students could help and many students who wanted to help.

KEEPING THE AUTO RUNNING

Vocational Automotives helps students learn about cars

Are you interested in fixing cars? If so, the vocational Automotive Program might be for you. It gave students an opportunity to learn how to make basic repairs on their automobiles and enabled them to go into a program wherby they could become certified automotive technicians and get a good job as an auto mechanic. The program lasted for three periods each day and there was a junior class and a senior class. Mr. Tony Rozman was the instructor for the program.

Want to learn about networking of computers? The CISCOprogram could be for you. The use of computers was an ongoing growing industry and the ability to get the computers to talk to each other was very important since many businesses and even homes had several computers that needed to communicate with each other. The members of the class learned how to get the computers to work together and after graduation could expect to get a good job in the computer industry after college. Mr. Roy Pignatiello was the instructor for the course.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE

Key Club unlocks opportunities for members to render service to the communit

Key Club (Kiwanis Educated Youth) was an international service organization at the high school that focused on student service in the school and community. Through different projects, the members of Key Club were able to serve the community and make it a better place to be. Some of the projects that students participated included helping at open house, visiting a nursing home, babysitting at the hospital, putting on a haunted hay ride, and helping out with Fred's Club. Key Club also held a school collection for Unicef, the Children's Miracle Network, and the Sight Center.

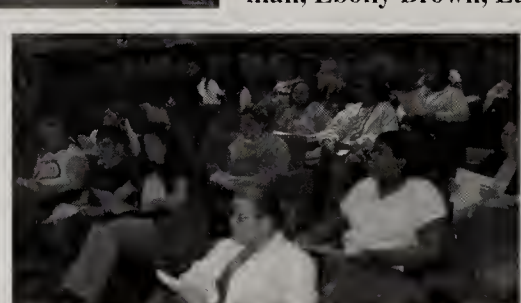
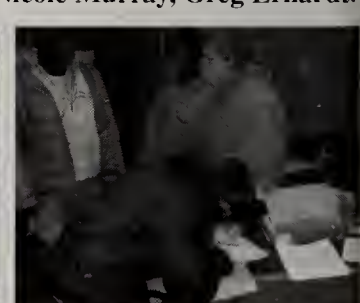
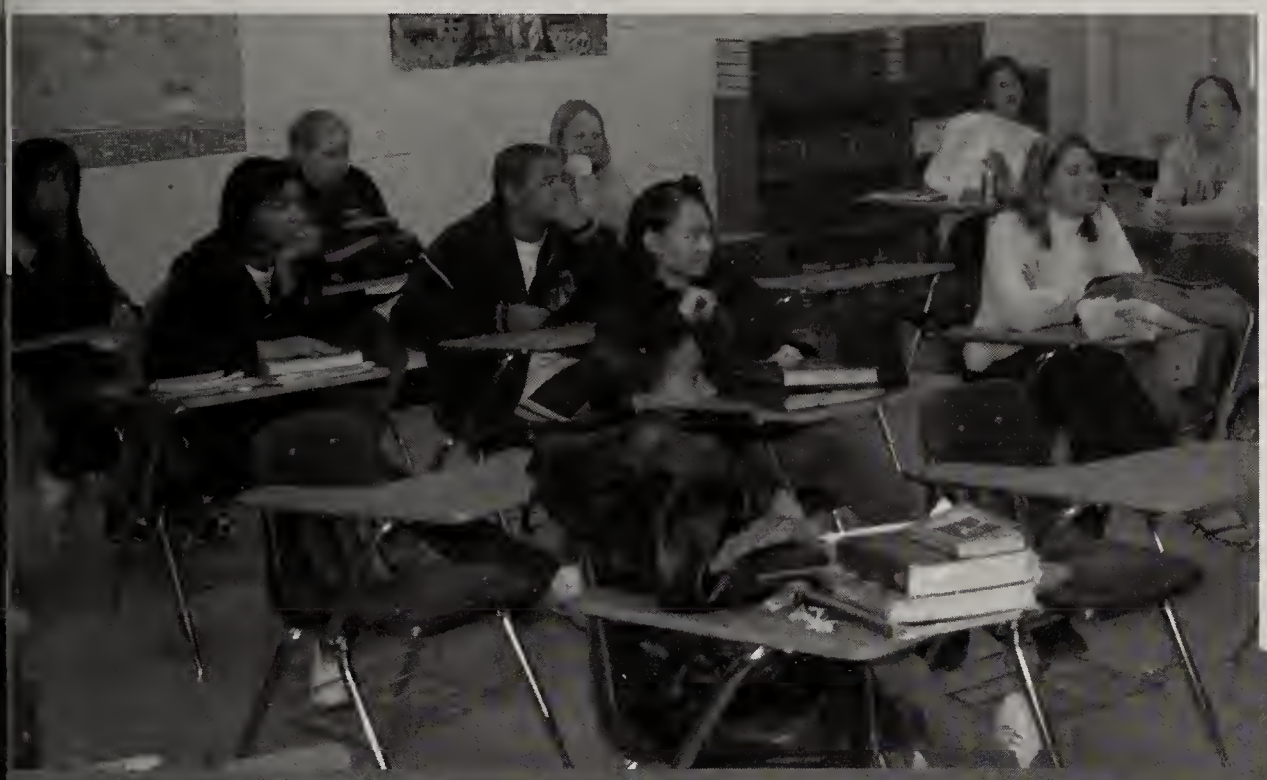
Key Club members listened to the officers to learn what was going to be done in the future. They could alway anticipate that there would be many opportunities to help out in the community.





STUDENT EXPRESSION

Eucuyo gives students and opportunity to get their creativity published



Eucuyo was under the new leadership of Mr. Dan Beckwith and Mr. Dale Pagano. Eucuyo set out with much anticipation for the new school year. Members requested literary and photographic submissions from all members of the student body for review. The editors reviewed the submisssions, chose the best ones, and then assembled these into a book that was sold to students in the spring. The editors used InDesign to compose the pages.

-Holly Yanacek

Mr. Dale Pagano and Mr. Dan Beckwith kept watch over all the activities that the members of Eucuyo did. There were lots of stories that had to be read and pictures that had to be judged in order to get the Eucuyo put together.

EXPRESSING THEMSELVES

Commercial Art prepares students for careers in business

The Commercial Art class was a two-year vocational program for juniors and seniors that introduced students to the are and business world. Students in this program got a lot of experience using their skills in art to create many different art forms, including advertisements. They also put together a portfolio that contained all of the art work they accomplished in it. The portfolios were then presented by the students to art institutes and at job interviews. Commercial Art students also held an art show in which all of their works of art were displayed in. Mrs. Edie Mellen was in charge of instruction for the group.

A high grade point average was not enough as far as the National Honor Society was concerned. A student also had to be able to show that they were involved in activities both in and out of school. In addition every candidate had to be reviewed by the faculty who rated the candidates on a scale from 1-5. After reviewing the qualifications new members were tapped on Tuesday, February 10, during homeroom. The new members were inducted on Thursday February 26 at The Manor Party Center. NHS members had several fund raising activities throughout the year and did service activities for the community. Zoe Harrold was the president, Latriece Jones was the vice-president and Emily Kliever was the secretary. Ms. Diane Maroli was the adviser for the group.

Emily Kliever, Zoe Harrold and Latriece Jones talk to Ms. Diane Maroli about how the induction process is going to proceed since this is the first time it would be done at The Manor and not in the auditorium of the high school.

UPHOLDING THE LAW

Criminal Justice program teaches students how to get into law enforcement

Criminal Justice was a vocational program that was offered to juniors and seniors at The Euclid High School. The vocational law enforcement students were instructed by Mr. Nick Selvaggio. In this program, the students learned many aspects of law enforcement including forensic science and how to control fights. They were taught a lot of other information that would help them if they wanted to pursue a career in the field of law enforcement in the future. These students patrolled the school as security guards, and they helped to control fights in the halls.

COMPETING IN SCIENCE

Science Olympics gives students a chance to sharpen their science skills

Science Olympiad was a club that allowed students to show off their knowlege of science. Students that participated in Science Olympiad competed with other schools in science-related activities. In order to prepare for the competitions, member tried to learn as much material as possible about their topics in order to complete the activites successfully. Science Olympiad anticipated their participation in their science competition at Case Western Reserve on February 21, 2004. Ms. Judy Ladaika was the adviser for the group.

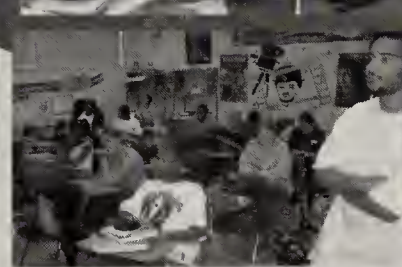
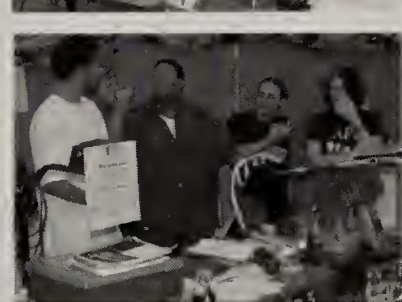
AMATEUR MOVIE MAKERS

The Film and Theater Club explores the art of composing student-made movies



Do you want to make a movie? With the proliferation of video tape recorders everyone wanted to make a movie. Making a movie, however, was not the same thing as making a video tape. A movie told a story and was much more professional than just taking pictures. Members of the Film and Theater Club learned how to design the story, take the tape and then edit into something that looked professional. Using computers with multimedia capability they were able to end up with movies that looked professional. Mrs. Marketa President, the club's adviser, showed them how to design, take and edit their tapes into professional looking movies.

Film Club members spend a lot of time in front of their computers editing their movies.



At the breginning of the year the students learned what was expected of them.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S FIT TO PRINT

Survey makes sure that the students get the school's news

Euclid's newspaper, the Survey, was a huge success thanks to the efforts of many individuals. Covering everything from sports and music to the school transformation, the Survey kept the student body, the faculty, and the community informed about the latest happenings at the high school. Students that were members of the Survey staff learned valuable lessons while working to put the newspaper together. These students learned responsibility and how to work together as a team, and they were able to further develop their writing skills. The Survey staff advisers, Mr. Robert Petrovic and Mr. Al Bartucci, made sure that everything ran smoothly. In addition to reporters, copy editors, layout editors, photographers, and business and advetising managers did their best to make the Survey a newspaper Euclid Panthers could truly be proud of.

The Kids on the Block was a special group of student puppeteers that memorized different scripts to put on shows for the elementary schools in Euclid. Their performances with their puppets were used to educate students on real-life issues such as abuse, bullying, and accepting differences. The performances were a valuable experience that allowed the elementary school students to learn and have fun at the same time. A few of the schools that the Kids on the Block puppet troop performed at includes Upson, St. William, and Roosevelt. Mrs. Kathy Hoinski and Mrs. Margaret Nielsen were advisers for the club.

EDUCATION IS THEIR THING

Future Educators of America learn about the teaching profession

The Future Educators of America Club allowed students to explore careers in education. Meetings were held after school every other Thursday throughout the year. The meetings were open to all students interested in becoming teachers. Under the guidance of Miss Fulton, FEA members received valuable informatioin about colleges and the education profession. Many of these students decided to volunteer their time to shadow teachers and participate in peer tutoring programs.

-Holly Yanacek

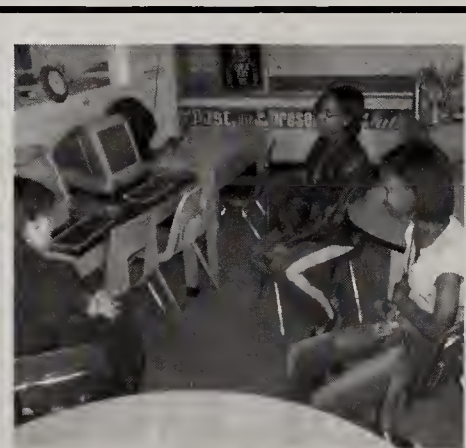
FEA members learned about many of the things that go on in and out of a classroom.

Ms. Fulton and Ms. Stephanie Norris helped the students get used to what is going on in the classrooms so they know what to expect when they get into the teaching field.

PROSE OR POETRY?

The Poetry Club would like you to choose poetry

If you liked to read or compose poetry then the Poetry Club was for you. Headed by Mrs. Andreea Gorodea the group met after school and would share the poems that the members found interesting and to read poetry that the members had composed.



GLIDING DOWN THE SLOPE

Ski Club gave students a chance to enjoy their winter

Zoe Harrold and Erin Gutbrod getting their equipment on so they can head out to the slopes

2004 was a great year if you enjoyed being out in the snow. The snow began in mid December, melted at the end of the month and then came in with a vengence during January leaving the month with the third most snow in history. All this meant that the Ski Club had really good conditions when they went to Brandywine Ski Area. Thirty Euclid students spent their Thursday evenings skiing, snowboarding or snowblading on the hills. It was a really inexpensive opportunity since equipment was provided (if needed), lessons were given and the students were transported to the area by bus. It was an excellent oportunity for students to learn how to ski or snowboard. Mr. Bill Von Benken was the adviser for the group.

The bus ride out was a fun time for all.

KEEPING IN STEP

Drill Team performed at basketball games and assemblies

You had to have rhythm if you wre to be a member of the Euclid Drill Team. The members practiced after school by rehearsing their moves in the halls and the E-room. They put together shows that they presented to the school at half-times during basketball games and also performed at the Student Council Junior Olympics assembly. The members enjoyed showing their talents to the rest of the school. The group was advised by Mrs. Jennifer Teknipp.

CAN'T BOUNCE THIS CHECK

Chess Club members learned about strategy and pursuit

Like strategy games? Then maybe Chess Club was for you. Playing chess gave members a chance to compete against each other in one of the oldest strategy games in the world. They learned to think ahead and to plan strategies on how to capture the king. They also had competitions with other schools to see how they could do. Mr. Barry Mita was the adviser for the group.

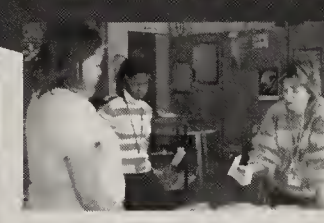
THINK BEFORE YOU ACT

S.A.D.D. wants students to make educated decisions

Mrs. Andreea Gorodea works with S.A.D.D. members to assemble remenders that will be passed out to students to remind them about the dangers of making destructive decisions.

S.A.D.D. (Students Against Destructive Decisions) members wanted all students to be aware of the problems that they could get into if they chose to operate a motor vehicle under the influence of a mind altering chemical such as alcohol. The high school years have always been associated with students trying different ways to get high with mind altering chemicals. S.A.D.D. members wanted everyone to know the remifications that they might face if they did participate in such activities and to make them aware of ways of preventing problems. Mrs. Andreea Gorodea helped the students perform their services.



DISTRIBUTING THE TECHNOLOGY

Student Media Technicians work behind the scenes to produce shows

The students in the Audio Visual Club were extremely busy this year. They set up all of the sound and video equipment for band, orchestra, and choir concerts. The A V students prepared for any performance in the auditorium. Besides helping out with concerts, they also helped to keep copy machines jam-free. Student Media Technicians also worked to assist teachers by replacing light bulbs in overhead projectors and delivering TV/DVD players to classrooms. Another new role of A V members was to take care of the lighting, sound, and stage building of the sets for the high school's Big Show. They also made sure that the morning announcements ran smoothly each and every day. Mr. Al Black was the director of the Audio Visual Department.

GETTING OUT THE NEWS

P.A. announcers tell it like it is

Emily Kliever and Brandon Smith were a couple of the announcers that Euclid students saw every day as they watched the morning announcements.

How did you get your news about what was happening at Euclid High School? You could hear lots of important information by watching and listening to the morning announcements. The P.A. Announcers got to school early and went to the studio next to the library. After homeroom began they would read all the news that was important for that day. The students got good experience with the world of video journalism. Mr. Allen Black was in charge of the announcers.

Emily Kliever tried to anticipate how the school would react to the announcements that she read.

EARNING THE BREAD

Many Euclid students spend a lot of time at a job

Many students at Euclid High School chose to have a job that they would go to after classes rather than participate in extracurricular activities. There were many benefits to having a job since it taught some students how to manage their money, the importance of attendance and punctuality when relating with an employer and the importance of developing of good work habits. Seniors were asked whether or not they had a job and 80% responded that they did with most of them working between 20 - 29 hours per week. When working many hours, however, students found it difficult to be with their peers since they were either in school or working. The attraction of being able to get a paycheck that they could use to buy things they wanted such as clothes, games and of course a car was a very powerful incentive. Some students actually put away some of their earnings to be used for college.

HOME AWAY FROM HOME

At the beginning of the school year every student was given a locker that they could use to store their possessions in as they went through their school day and year. Most students simply hung a lock on the handle and used it that way. Some students, however, used their locker as a creative means to express feelings about their lives and decorated it with pictures and other memorabilia from important events of their lives. Popular subjects included favorite actors and actresses, activities they participated in, friends of family. Their locker was a billboard announcing what was important to them.

KEEPING THE FAITH

CRUX meets to have a religious experience

The CRUX were a group of students who believed hat there should be a religious presence in their lives. Meeting after school in the band room they sang songs, read the Bible and heard about what religion meant in each other's lives. On September 17 they invited everyone to 'Meet them at the pole' where they held a short service around the flag pole in the front of the building before school. Ms. Diane Tizzano was the adviser for the group.

Members of CRUX met in the Band Rom to hear speakers from local churches.

LEARNING HOW THE NATIONS INTERACT

Model UN helps students realize problems in the world

Want to participate in building a nation? If so, then the Model UN was for you. Students in Model UN learned about all the relationships that existed between countries and all the work that had to be done in order to get anything done at the United Nations. Members went to Cleveland State to participate in a mock UN meeting. Mr. Roy Pignatiello was the adviser for the group.

ANTICIPATING CHANG

The beginning of the 2003-2004 school saw many of the usual changes that occurred every year such as new staff to replace old staff who retired or moved on to other positions. This year, however, saw changes that were unprecedented in previous years. Euclid School got a grant from Knowledgeworks for almost $1.5 million to restructure Euclid High School into six smaller schools. The money ultimately came from Microsoft founder, Bill Gates, who decided that the problem with large schools such as Euclid was that they were too impersonal and that no one gets a chance to know anyone else. The solution was to reorganize the school into six smaller schools of no more than 350 students each. In such a school everyone would know everyone else and everyone would have a positive attitude and there would be no problems with attendance and passage of the Ohio Graduation Test which every student had to pass in order to graduate from high school. The grant included a time line which said that the schools had to be in place by the Fall of 2004. Since the grant was only received in August, 2003 and students had to be scheduled in the Spring of 2004 that did not leave much time to get the entire plan into place. Each of the smaller schools needed a principal so the regular Unit Principals were removed and substitutes were assigned for the duration of the 22003-2004 school year. The new small school principals then were free to work throughout the year on trying to organize the smaller schools. Each of the smaller schools had a theme such as General Studies & Liberal Arts, Fine Arts & Performing Arts, Business & communications, Math, Engineering & Science Technology, Global Studies and Public Service & Trade and Industry. It was safe to say that most of the conversations that took place between the teachers throughout involved the solution of problems related to the smaller schools.

Transformation initiative leads to major reshuffling in the administrative sector

A major reorganization took place during the 2003-2004 school year. Because of the Transformation grant many of the administrative staff entered a year long training program to design the new smaller schools. These people then became the principals for the six smaller schools. Because of that new people were moved into administrative positions in the high school to take over all the duties that were normally performed by the old Unit Principals. Justin Antonini became the interim Principal/Associate Principal while Charlie Smialek, Ed Klein, Scott Wilson and Shon Smith became the Interim Unit Principals. William Baylis, Tina Elliott, Jim Poulson, Ron Seymour, Claudia Spencer and Elie Thomas became the principals for the new smaller schools.

HELP IN THE CLASSROOM

Staff goes the extra mile to help students achieve their potential

The 2003-2004 staff saw many changes due to the reorganization of the high school into the six smaller schools. Several teachers were promoted to the positions of unit principles, and their vacancies had to be filled by mobile teachers, which resulted in some confusion at the beginning of the year. After this was accomplished, classes settled down, and the process of learning continued. There was much anticipation throughout the year because of the uncertainties that occured because of the transformation initiative. The reorganization was very complex, which resulted in many after school staff meetings and in service days where the staff met without the students present. Many staff members missed classes because they were Design Team members. Throughout the process, most staff members maintained a positive attitude and the process of learning continued.

-Holly Yanacek

Always ready to help. Mr. Dan Wensing points out important parts of the problem to Negean Mobasseri. Students often come in after school for extra help on their problems in math.

Mr. Alex Toth wants all his students to see the advantages of being able to understand math.

Mr. Robert Torrelli helps Tom Woldering understand his physics lab.

Below Right: Mr. Scott Wilson had to work hard to make his transition from teacher to Unit Principal go well.

Ms. Sue Amato works hard to anticipate any questions her students might have.

Mr. Robert Petrovic helps the members of the Survey to anticipate the stories that they will need for the next issue.

ANTICIPATING CHANGE

It was always a problem being an underclassman. They were always looking forward to becoming a senior and then being able to graduate. But in 2003-04 there was a new problem that was faced by every underclassman. That problem was the transformation that Euclid High School was undergoing into six smaller schools. Change was always difficult, but this change was really going to be more difficult. The seniors were luck since they would be gone and now have to face the change. The freshmen were just beginning their high school years an so had a couple of years to see how things were going to work out. The present juniors were in the most unsure situation since they were almost done with their high school careers and then they had to undergo a complete reorganization for their last year. Much of the discussions that were heard throughout the year dealt with the reorganization.

Right: Liz Copperman likes to listen to music when she is not studying.

UNDERCLASS DIVIDER

Students showing all the different ways they can manipulate their fingers.

Students in Mrs. Ingrid Koenig's German class know that learning a language will help them get into college.

After school many students hung out together to appreciate each other's company.

After the last bell rang, students got outside fast so they could get to their bus.

Shayeeda Mahario, Greg Mc Kay and Lauren Mihelich know that it is important to work hard as an underclassman so they can have a better chance of success later on in life.

Below: Nate Suhy shows that he can have a lot of fun while at Euclid High School.

Far Left: Jerica Tokic and Jessica Spring will be friends for many years.

Far Left: Michelle Simon, Jasmine Boggan, Camille Triplin, Ashley Barnes and Antoinette Santiago are active in the school.

Class of 2005

The junior year was always one of anticipation, but for the class of 2005 there was even more anticipation than usual. The juniors were anticipating the big changes that would come because of the transformation project. Many juniors wondered how it would affect them in their last year, but some didn't care about the change, but every one anticipated it. Since the juniors have been in the school for three years, they knew the layout of the building and the rules of the school, giving them a slight advantage over the other underclassmen. They were also chosen to be the leaders of many activities since they had more experience. All in all, the junior year of high school was a year that would produce many memories.

-John Haynes

Hey look Dave, in a few more months wer're going to be seniors. Allie Montague and Dave Swansegar keep track of the time remaining until they will be seniors.

Shelly Struna and Dawn Ott are really enjoying their junior year.

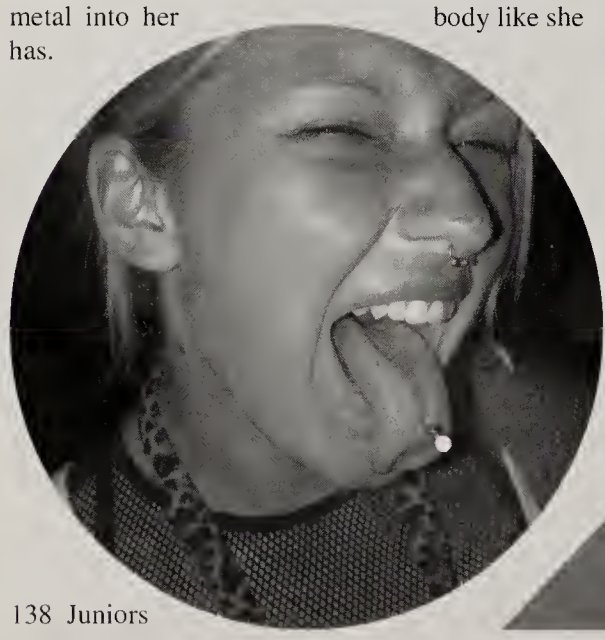
Many juniors enjoy the activities that are occurring in their classes. They anticipate better things for the future.

Look at all the holes I can put in my face! Jasmine Manista may have trouble getting through a metal detector if she keep on sticking more metal into her body like she has.



Chelsea Quade, Rachel Jochum, Shaina Banaszak and Cory Moore enjoy each other's company while George Whitfield anticipates a good relationship with the Euclid panther mascot.

Juniors knew the rules of the school and were just waiting for that last year

Juniors know that time spent in class will lead to a better understanding of what they will need to know as they proceed through their lives.
Left: Ryan Higginbothan buys some snacks that he will use so that he can study late into the night.

Camilla Triplett, Michelle Smith and Jasmine Boggan have a lot of fun posting signs on lockers.
Below: Having fun at Homecoming.

Deanna Holloway and Rachel Jochum anticipate many fun moments together in the future.

Far Left: Brittany Roberts and Lisa Murray anticipate learning a lot in their chemistry class that will help them understand many of the processes going aroung them.

Left: Jackie Janda, Greg Mc Kay and Lauren Mihelich enjoy being in classes together.

Steve Tompkins and Carrie Doerr admire Stephanie Maxwell and Bryan Arko at Homecoming.
Jon Suhy and Dan Zudic anticipating their moves on the soccer field.

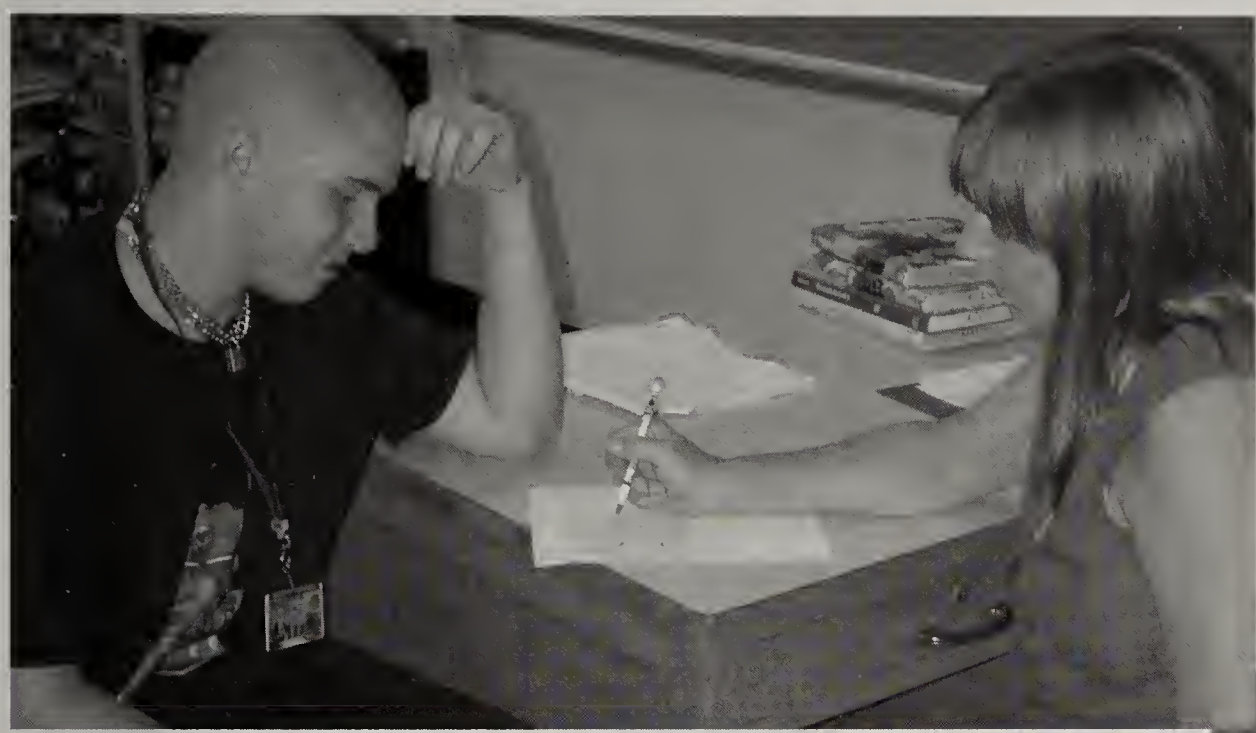
SENIOR ANTICIPATION

Juniors experience least amount of change with transformation



Kevin Vanek gets help with his German homework from Mrs. Ingrid Koenig who wants all her students to do well with their work.
Below: English class is an important place to learn how to prepare for the future.

Jackie Janda and Rachel Jochum, Carrie Doerr, Dawn Ott, Rachel Jochum and Anthony Jochum, Dave Swansegar and Kate Kinison and Lisa Murray and Latoya Wynn working hard t succeed in the future.

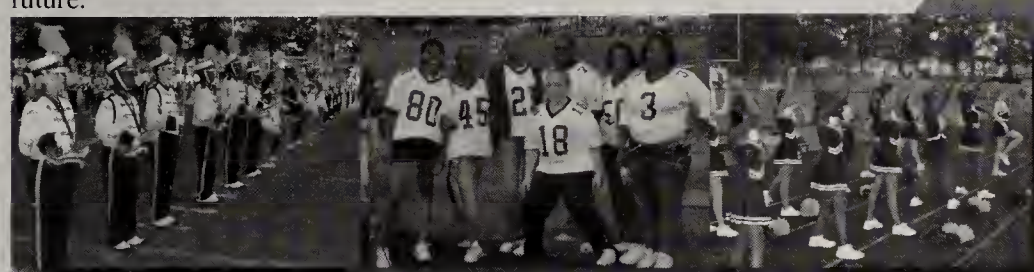
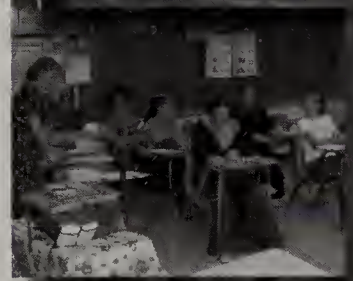
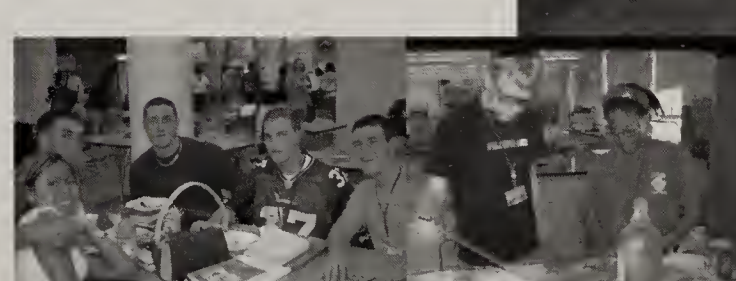
Rebecca Christopher and Daniel Zudic hope that they will be able to participate in all the things they enjoy their last year of high school.





Members of the class of 2005 participated in many activities and sports during their high school days. They were an integral part of the school scene. They only had one remaining year at Euclid High School so the transformation affected them the least. They were an active class but they had to fill the steps that were formed by the class of 2004



Class of 2006

Sophomores have gotten used to the school and are beginning to become productive members of the student body

In 2002-03 the class of 2006 was the lowest on the totem pole. This year, however, the sophomores were relieved to finally be moving up in the world. They had a better understanding of how the school operated and became more involved in extracurricular activities and became a more important part of the workings of Euclid High School. The sophomore year was one of the most significant of a student's life since it was the time that most of them began to drive. Many also got jobs and began planning for college. Sophomore year was less stressful since students knew their way around the school but because of the transformation of the school there was more stress since no one knew just exactly the school was going to look like in the future. The anticipation was very stressful for sophomores since they still had two more years to go.

-Holly Yanacek

Above: Brittany Sidak anticipates an exciting cheerleading being supported by Jasmine Manista and Chrissy Lennon.

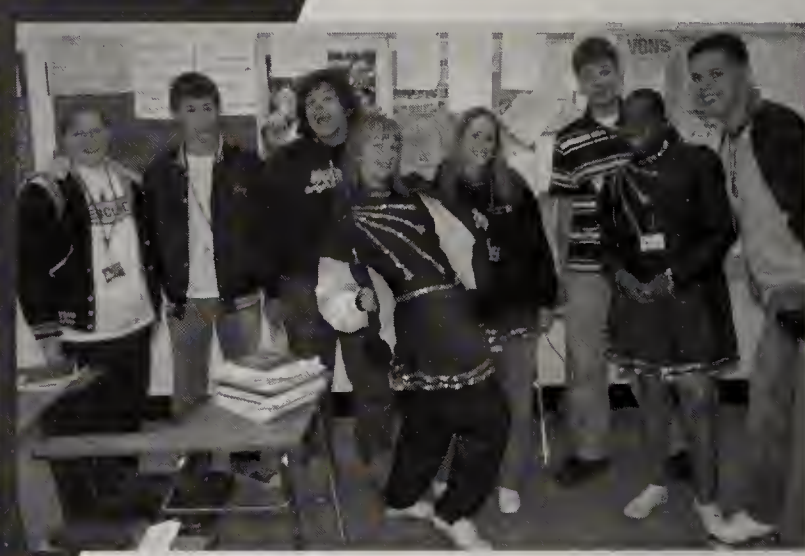
Marissa Mannarino and Jackie Janda watch their reaction very intently as they anticipate something interesting happening.

Dana Mc Gill kicks the ball into the field with the anticipation that one of her team mates will get to it.



Amalia Boris, Chris Geigerich, Zach Svoboda, Jessica Vandegrift, Rachel Sova, Cory Shy, Asia Wilson Wilson and Kyle Strodtbeck dressed up in their blue and Gold as they anticipated Spirit Week.

Karen Connavino and Amanda Hill anticipate that the reaction that they are doing will give them meaningful data.

Andrew Collins and Travis Beach watch their chemistry experiment with the anticipation that something exciting may happen.

Amy Barwick fights for the ball with the anticipation that she will be able to get control of it and be able to pass it off to one of her team mates.

Rachel Perovsek and Holly Yanacek anticipate having a lot of fun on the ski slopes with the Ski Club.

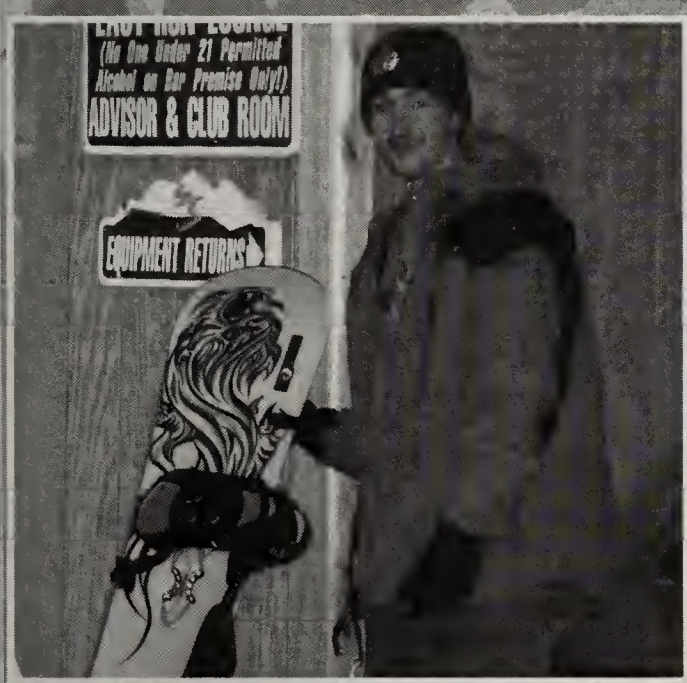
The Drill Team performed during the half time of some of the boys basketball games. Sophomores helped make the group a success.

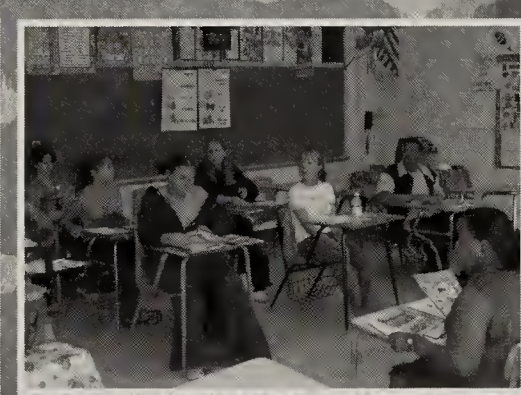
Above: Zach Svoboda is an important member of the Audio Visual club which makes sure that the morning announcements get to all the rooms every morning and all the other AV equipment gets to where it is needed.



Christopher Mc Kenzie was a member of the Ski and Snowboard Club and had a lot of fun riding the hills at Brandywine Ski Area..

Left: Phillip Silvaggio is an important part of the hockey team and spends a lot of time on the ice.

Above and Left: Sophomores helped the volleyball and the swim team to accomplish what they had to do to have a successful season.



Sophomores wanted to be included in the trip to Europe.

Class of 2006

Freshmen

The freshmen class members had a lot of topics that they had to look forward to. They were the new class in the large school soon to become a small school. The freshmen always had a hard time since they were the new kids on the block, but in this case they were not the only ones that would be the new kids on the block. They would be affected the most since they would be in the school the longest. They had to be concerned with which of the small schools they would end up in, where would their friends be, how this was all going to come together and would it work. Many freshmen adapted well to the school and joined clubs and participated in sports and classroom activities. Others had a hard time trying to fit into the school environment.

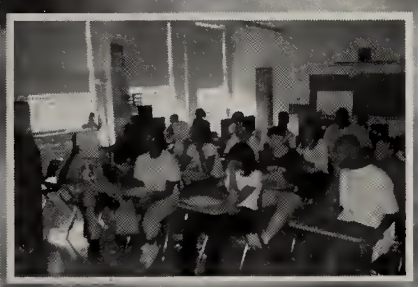
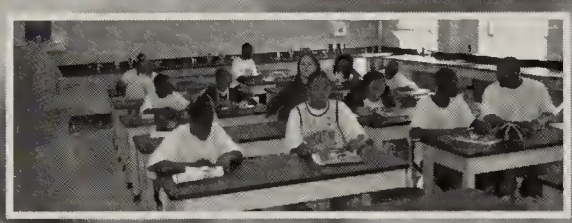
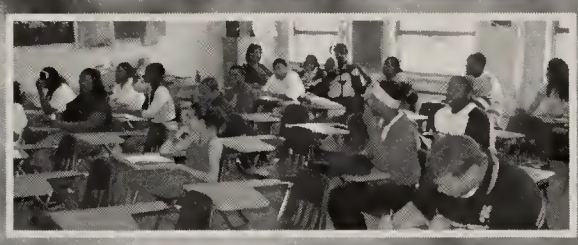
Freshmen began their years at Euclid High School with much anticipation of good things to come.







Class of 2007

ANTICIPATING CHANGE

Many events occurred at the end of the 2002-2003 school year that could not be covered in the 2003 Euclidian since all material for that book had to be at the printing plant in early March in order for the book to be delievered in time for the seniors to get them before they graduated. Because of that, all Spring Sports and events that occurred after the beginning of March are covered in this section. Man important events in the school year occurred after the March deadline.

Big Show gave lots of students an opportunity to perform in front of their parents and friends in the auditor ium.

BASEBAWLED

Baseball 2003 at Euclid High School was not a very productive event. For the first time ever, the varsity team ended the season with a losing record. The coach never turned the scores in so the record was unavailable. One bright spot was the freshmen team which finished the season with a 13-6 overall record and 7-1 in the L.E.L.

BATTING FOR A WINNING SEASON

Softball had a lot of fun and worked well together

The 2003 Girls' Softball team finished the season with a 13-10 overall record and 6-6 in the L.E.L. This was good enough to get them a fourth place finish in the league. They won some games by a huge margin but then lost others by just a few runs. The girls worked hard and tried their best.

Boys' Tennis goes .500 for the season

The boys' season began in mid-March with practices at an indoor racquet club. The boys' coach, Mrs. Dania Banc, was in her second year of coaching the varsity at Euclid High School. There was strong leadership within the team. Seniors, Steve Bui and Jimmy Vitolo held positions at first and third singles while sophomore, Robbie Vazquez, played second singles. The team showed great improvement and performed better than in the past. Jimmy Vitolo made it to the third round of Districts and a doubles team of Andy Misiak and Matt Kushan made it to the second round of Districts. Their overall record was 8-8.

FASHION AND ART

Fashion and Talent show raised money for Prom

The second annual Music and Talent Show was held on Saturday, April 5, 2003 and raised a lot of money to help pay for Prom. It consisted of many students dressed up in formal and casual outfits that would go along with Prom and After Prom. It also consisted of many singing and dancing groups that entertained the audience. Mrs. Markeeta President did an excellent job of getting all the students together and able to perform in such a creative fashion

Mrs. Markeeta President organized the show.
Ashley Youngblood danced to the music.
Kurt Long dressed as Elvis Presley.
Rio Green and Mike Stoner sang a duet together.

Principal, Mr. Ronald Seymour and Rio Green showed off their fashions.
Ashley Williams expresses her emotions in her song.

Cory Mc Redmond and Corey Russell announced some of the performers.
Chernita White sang some beartiful music.

La'Keisha Key, Rio Green and Catrera Dean showed that there was a lot of talent at Euclid High School.
Jennifer Lee was escorted by Jesse Lee to show offf their fashions.

The Senior Art Show of 2003 was a great success and a wonderful experience for its student participants. Students in Advanced Photography, Commercial Art and A.P. Portfolio had the opportunity to sell their artwork in the school auditorium, duplicating a gallery setting. Most students put up more than one piece of artwork for sale. The sales of the pieces netted about $1000 . Mrs. Edie Mellen was the coordinator for the program

LIVING OUT ON THE TOWN

Big Show 2003 was a positive and enjoyable experience for all who participated. The musical, "Guys and Dolls" was a huge success for the participants and the audience. Each character had a lasting impression on the audience and each actor did a great job in performing their roles. Dan May played the part of Nathan Detroit, the main character who was always looking for a spot to have his infamous crap game. Tamika Nunley played Adelaide who has been engaged to Nathan for 14 years and performed in a nightclub. Craig Stigamier played Sky Masterson who was a slick, high-rolling gambler who falls for Sarah Brown who was played by Kari Longstreth.
Each vocal performance was outstanding and the acting was flawless, but another great part of the show was the pit orchestra and set crew. The pit practiced long and hard abd it showed throughout the entire show. The set crew also had their share of hard work with building and maintaining a great set. Overall, the show was a great success and was enjoyed by all.

HOW'S YOUR LIFE?

Frank's life turned out to be a TV show

Last year's Spring Play, the dark comedy, "Frank's Life" was a huge success. Students, teachers and members of the community came to support some of Euclid High's most talented actors.

"Frank's Life", written by Mark Dunn, told the story of a man whose whole life was a TV show. But he was the only one who didn't knos it. When Frank's loved ones were forced to deal with a pay cut, things became chaotic and Frank began to question whether his life was real or if something was being hidden from him.

This was the last play for all the male actors, seniors, Dan May, Jason Weber and Anthony Bagwell. Dan had the leading roll of sweet and trusting Frank, while Jason portrayed his best friend, Carley. Anthony's character was the stressed-out Pruett, the producer doing everything he could to stop Frank from finding out the truth.

Other parts were those of Frank's sarcastic and conceited wife, Shelly(Meredith Wise), and Corley's wife who has secretly been in love with Frank for years, Stace(Emily Kliever). Andrea Mitchell played Frank's irritated mother, Gladys, while Jessica Oslund had the role of Frank's slightly-insane-but-adorable little sister, Joy.

"Frank's Life" was the second play directed by Mr. Greg Baca and Miss Tinney. Many others were involved in the play, including James Jones as understudy and Kevin Miklavcic, the technical director.

All of the cast and crew put much time into the production of the play and appreciated the applause from the audience.

-Emily Kliever

Spring Play, Row one: Jennifer Walker, Jessi Oslund, Daniel May, Emily Kliever, Jason Weber. Row two: Director, Ms. Trisha Tinney, James Jones, Meredith Wise, Anthony Bagwell, Andrea Mitchell, Director Mr. Gregory Baca.

Above: Jason Weber tells Dan May about an absurd dream he has had.
Right: Jessica Oslund decides that she can't play Joy anymore because she IS Joy.

Jessica Oslund asks Dan May why they can't go somewhere that night.

Anthony Bagwell is worried about pay cuts because of low ratings.

Tension builds as Joy starts having a fit and everyone else is afraid she might reveal something about the show to Frank.

Jessica Oslund(Joy) tells Dan May that she has something she wants to talk to him about "in private" and says they should go up to the roof.

Meredith Wise consoles Dan May as he remembers what a great guy Bill was.

Jason Weber and Emily Kliever wonder how they will survive with such a large pay cut.

Jessica Oslund bites her nails during her meeting with her agent.

LOTS OF RECOGNITION

Senior Awards Assembly highlighed seniors' accomplishments

Stephanie Black received the Ohio High School Athletic Association Scholar Athlete Award.

Andrea Claycomb received the Euclid Teachers Association Award.
Below: Mike Zudic received the Ohio High School Athletic Association Archie Griffin Sportsmanship Award

The Senior Awards Program was held in the auditorium on May 20, 2003. During that time seniors were presented with various kinds of awards that they earned as a result of their work while at Euclid High School. The assembly recognized the students' accomplishments and showed to the rest of the class all the awards that the classmates earned.

Angela Lynn received the Lubrizol Foundation African american Scholarship.

Stephanie Svoboda received the Pat Buck Award.

These are some of the seniors that received the Edgar E. Kessel Scholarship.

Mr. Alex Toth and Stephanie Svoboda dribbling the ball down the court.

The Cheerleaders provided lots of enthusiasm during the basketball game.

The Drill Team provided entertainment during half-time.

The Annual Senior-Faculty Basketball Game was held in the East Gym on Friday, March 14, 2003. If a student did not purchase a ticket for the game they had to remain in homeroom at the end of the day while those that did purchase tickets went to the game. The students in the stands had a lot of fun cheering on their favorite players. It was an enjoyable experience for all who attended.

There was lots of activity on the court.

SHOWING OFF WITH STYLE

Prom gave students a chance to dress up

The Class of 2003 held their Prom at the Landerhaven Party Center on Friday evening, May 30, 2003. It was a festive affair in which everyone came dressed in their best regalia. After arriving, couples took lots of pictures of their friends and had their pictures taken by the professionals. The then had dinner in the main ballroom. After dinner, couples danced for the rest of the Prom. After leaving Landerhaven, couples went to after-prom and enjoyed themselves into the early morning hours of Saturday. The Prom was a fun event that was enjoyed by all.

Before the meal was served the students gathered around and took pictures and had their pictures taken.

Seniors had lots of fun talking and socializing before the dinner was served.

Danquan Prouty and Patrice Hill and Leslie Penko and Dan May and Tamika Nunley and Marques Richeson were some of the couples who stopped to have their picture taken.

Marvin Cross, Jessica Oslund and Jason Hayes really enjoyed themselves.

Meghan Ryan, Jacqui Greene and Caitlin Proctor, Jessica Jurcak, Jenny Janda and Renee Vanek liked to pose for pictures.

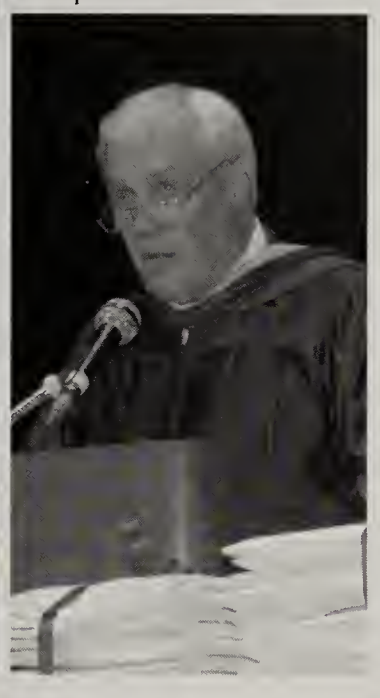
Cory Mc Redmond and Stephanie Svoboda and everyone else at the dance were dressed up and looked very elegant for the occasion.

TAKING THE BIG STEP INTO THE WORLD

Commencement was the beginning of life outside high school

Ross Salupo was the Valedictorian for the Class of 2003 and gave an appropriate speech to the graduates and their parents.



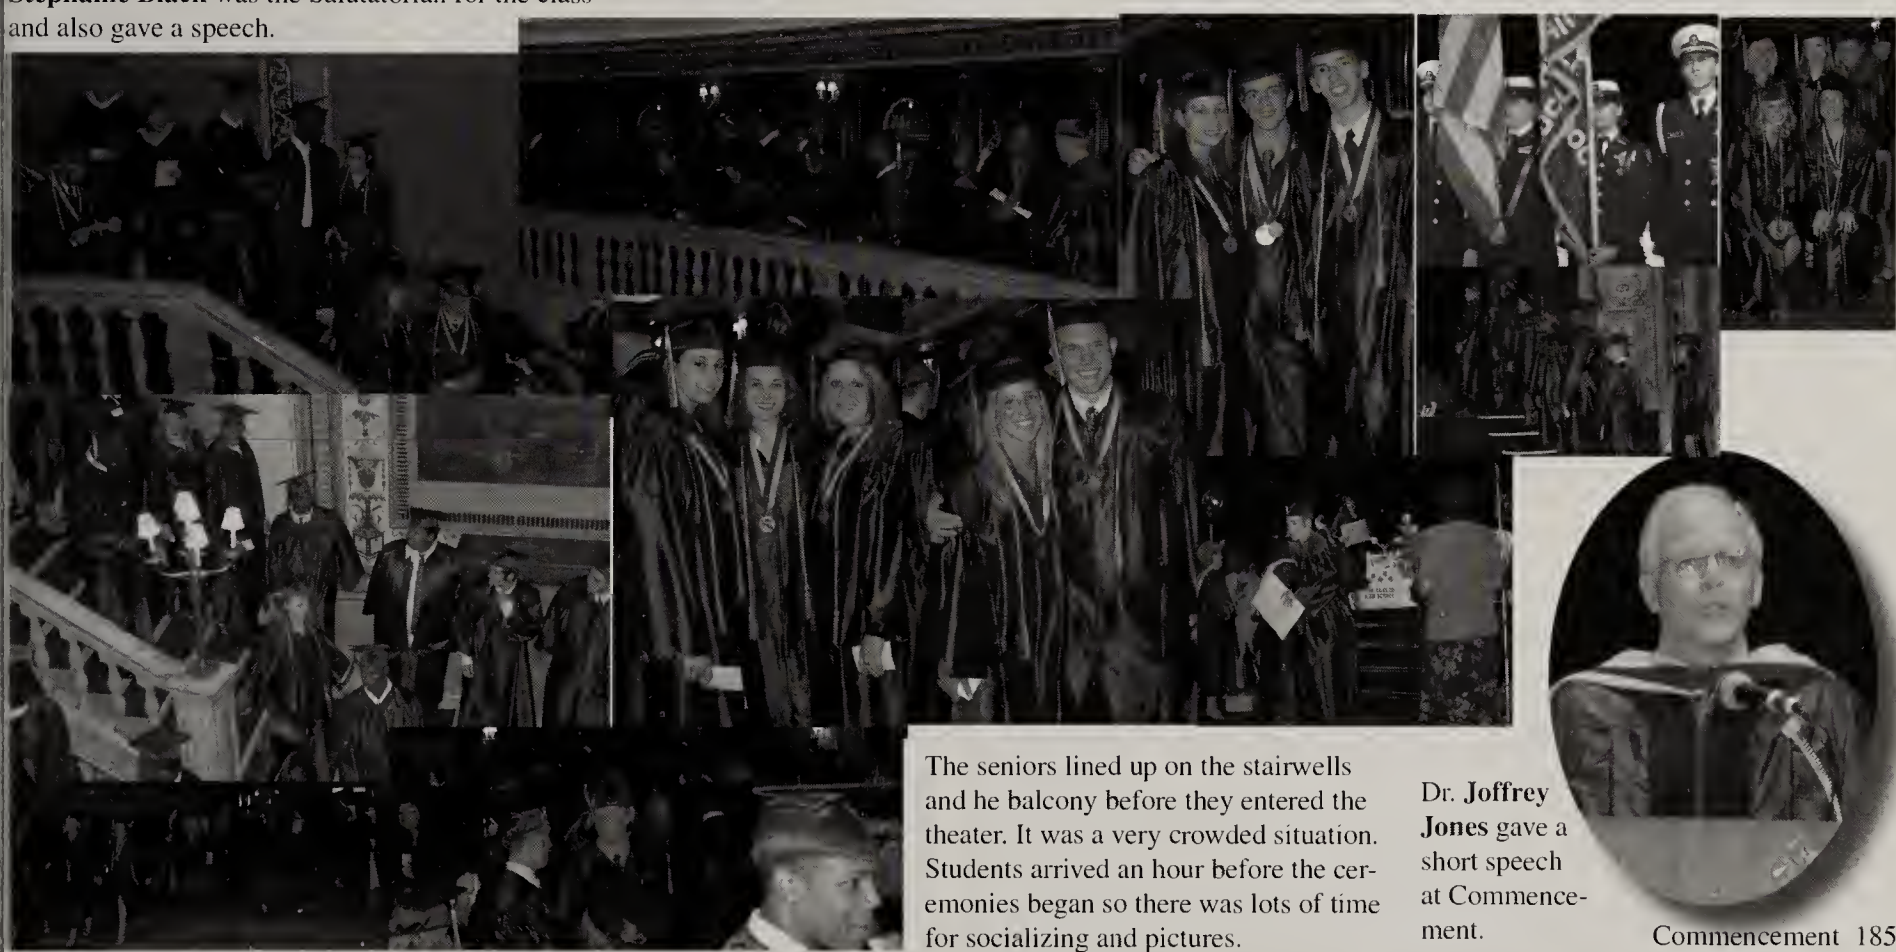
Commencement for the class of 2003 was held at the State Theater on Monday, June 2 at 7:00 p.m.. With a graduating class of over 300, the ceremony was one to remember. Selections from the band as well as Senior choral members were performed at the start of the evening. Words of encouragement from members of he school board and Principal, Mr. Ronald Seymour were delivered to the graduates. Superintendant, Dr. Joffrey Jones was delighted to participate in his first commencement ceremony at Euclid, and expressed his gratitude for the chance to be involved with the Euclid district.. Salutatorian, Stephanie Black and Valedictorian, Ross Salupo addressed their fellow students with words for the future and positive reflections on the quality environment Euclid had to offer. Diplomas were passed out, and he tassels were moved from right to left. The graduates left with a sense of sorrow, but also a sense of excitement for the beginning of the new chapter of heir lives.

-Natalie Greene

Stephanie Black was the Salutatorian for the class and also gave a speech.

Principal, Mr. Ronald Seymour, introduced the Superintendent of Schools, the School Board and other groups and students.

Above and Left: The Band played the National Anthem and all the people on the stage and in the audience sang.



The seniors lined up on the stairwells and he balcony before they entered the theater. It was a very crowded situation. Students arrived an hour before the ceremonies began so there was lots of time for socializing and pictures.

Dr. Joffrey Jones gave a short speech at Commencement.

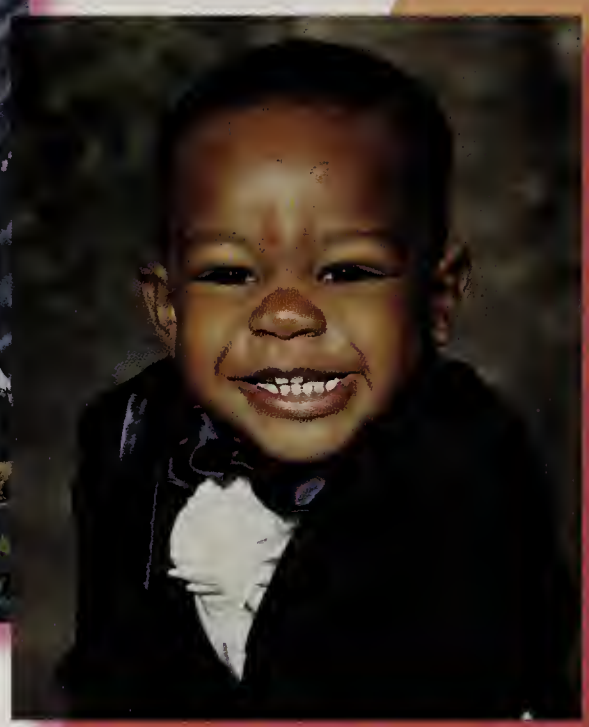
Natalie Greene

My Sweet Natalie,
You have grown into such a beautiful young woman, with so many gifts and abilities! You are special and your future is very bright. Walk with God and fulfill your potential. I will be standing by in the wings, watching, with great pride and love.
Forever,
Mom

Claudio M. Gentile

Dear Claudio,
From the moment we laid eyes on you your innocence filled our heart with tenderness. A gift from God we waited so long. We watched you grow and marveled in your "very first everything" jotting them down carefully in your baby book while realizing the years and moments like this rush by all too fast. We played together and learned together. You showed a hunger for learning new things, you read fluently by the time you were 4 years old, which lead you to exploring a new world of technology, the computer. We enjoyed many shopping spreers at "Toys-R-Us", getting familiar with the staff, and yes, never leaving empty-handed. Your love for technology was obvious even at this young age, continually progressing to bigger and better things. Perhaps we spoiled you somewhat, but we prefer to look at it as nurturing your passion for technology. You are well on your way to a life independent from ours, the childhood is gone and the memories may fade, but the love and pride we have for you will forever stay in our hearts.
May God continue to smile upon you.
Love,
Mom & Dad



Eric D. Graham Jr.

Eric,
You were a blessing to me from birth. Hold on to your faith in God, and excell to the highest.

Catherine Lapczensky

Dear Catherine,

When I held my tiny baby I had no way of knowing,
That you'd be on the basketball court, 5' 10" and growing!
I never thought you'd spike a ball or have a pitchers arm,
I only prayed the Lord would keep you safe and free from harm.
I hoped you would have good true friends, be smart and always kind,
I prayed for your success but NHS was not in mind!
I look upon my baby's face - a woman I see there,

And still I pray the Lord to keep you near and in His care.
We are SO proud of you Roses - Spud - Coach Katie - Mouse.
With Love from ALL of your Family.

As you continue on your journey, may God bless you and surround you with love.

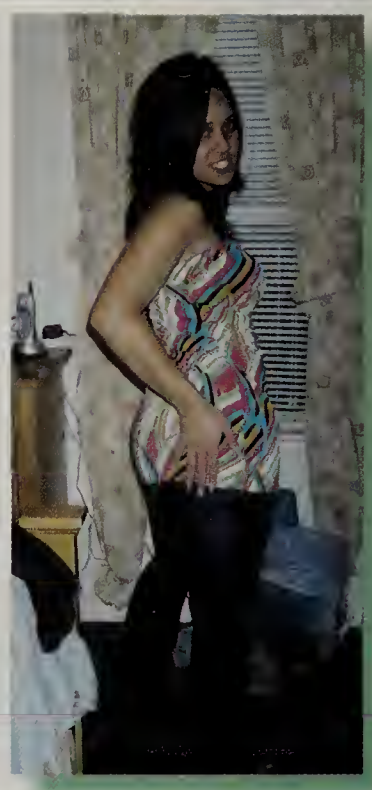
Amelia Mehtar

We are so very proud of you! To see how you have set your goals and accomplished what you set out to do. Everyday I am astounted to hear you talk so intelligently. Your wisdom grows and grows just as you do in all facets of your life. You have always worked so hard to do your best, while giving your entire mind and heart to the new avenues you try. I proudly observe your journey and I know that wherever it leads you, you will have outstanding success. Continue to find fun, happiness and challenges as you discover your own reasons for work, significance for your heart and meaning for your life. Live your world of dreams and know that whatever you do, wherever you go, we are here for you, in every way!
We Love You Dearly,
Mom, Ken, Your Family and Friends

Madia Lewis

Dear Madia,
You are my first born, my greatest love, I am so proud of you, you have always been a great help.



Lindsay,
You've been a challenge since day one, almost born at home, running at 8 months and never sleeping through the night until 19 months old.
We can't help but smile when we think of the ups and downs we've shared and the situations you've gotten into and out of. Your teachers called you a "free-spirit" - how right they were - you said it's been a 'bumpy-road" - how right you were.
We want you to know you are a very special light in our lives, a part of so many of our favorite memories.
This isn't just an ending, it's the beginning of new possibilities, of events and accomplishments you couldn't possibly predict today - reaching goals you never thought you'd attain that changes your outlook forever.
Believe in yourself, imagine your future, remember what matters and trust your instincts. We're behind you every step of the way as you begin the next chapter of your life.
Thanks for being our daughter,
Mom & Dad

Cassandra Meier

Cassie my baby

I gave you life,
You brought me joy
I taught you faith,
You gave me hope
I showed you patience,
You shared your strength
I gave you love,
You pass it on.

Who you are
Where you come from
And be as proud of yourself
As we are all of you

Love your family

Negean Mobasseri

Negean,
As you mature and grow intellectually, with increasing understanding and compassion towards the world around you, you help us grow and mature as well. You have been a wonderful daughter, we are proud of you, and we pray for the best in your future endeavors.

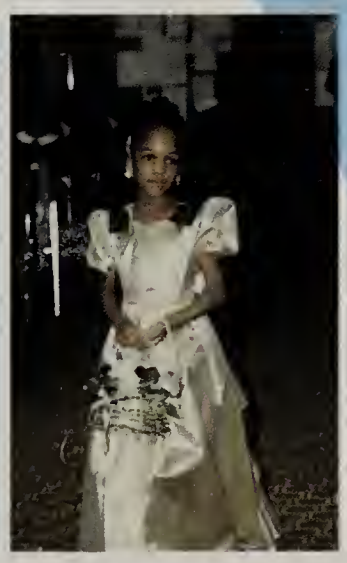
Dear Bugs,
You have come such a long way, I am very proud of you and am so glad to have the privilege of being your mom.
Love always



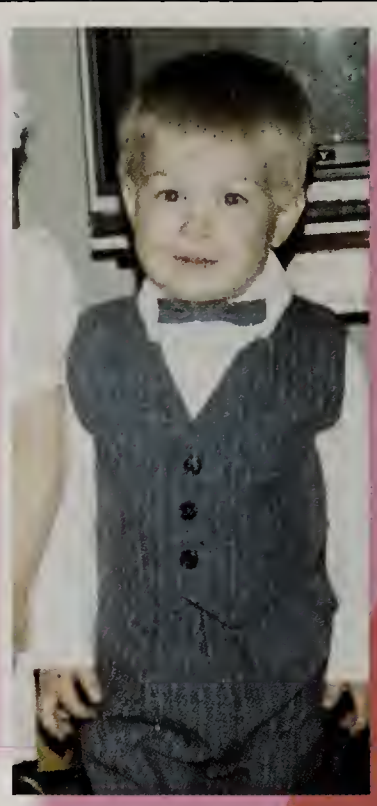
Gionna V. S. Parker

To: My daughter & our "little sister" Gionna,
From your coming forth into this world, we have truly adored you. We have watched you blossom into a beautiful and intelligent young woman. We admire your strength, vigor, zeal, and your determination, just to name a few of your positive and inspiring attributes. You have made us so proud, but as you already know that is no surprise you always do! Keep up the good work and remember, "The Sky is the Limit." We love so much!
Love, Mom, Shen, Ronique, Ciara and Manny

Michelle Riendeau

"God made daughters to give Mom's and Dad's lasting pleasure and to be a priceless gem they treasure. Daughters are very special and from the start with their charm they melt your heart. With dancing eyes and a loving smile, they get that way with grace and style. They become Mom's best friend but for Dad right to the end they'll always be Daddy's little Girl."
We will always love and support you,
Dad and Mom

Trevor Potulski



Dear Trev-
We can't believe that it is time for our "buddy" to graduate from high school. We are very proud to call you our son. Seek Christ first in all things and your life will be blessed!
We love you,
Dad, Mom and Tara

You are the man.

Kalie Simmerer

Now presenting, Kalie Simmerer, to her parents' critical acclaim.
And thius 5-year-old danced and sang and acted out her plays.
She and Mom played Pooh Sticks on bridges over streams
Then kicked their way through leaves on paths to other dreams.
She and Dad became painters of cats
Along the way.
Love and pride-filled these parents, amazed at who she's become:
An adult of beauty and maturity, extending grace to everyone.
You are so loved, Kalie. Such good things ahead.

Delano Rodgers

Delano,
Remember all the steps you have taken to this point. Remember there are many more steps you must take.
Life is one step at a time. If you find yourself running and can't stop, look to God and fall to your knee, He will always bring the ease. Keep the peace that is your presence, keep the respect that is your being, keep the love that is your soul and God will always bless you. And last and most important, count each and every blessing that comes your way.
Love,
Your parents
May God Keep & Bless you for ever.
I love you and will miss you deeply.

Marvin D. Sims Jr.

To our oldest child - Marvin D. Sims Jr.
You made us realize what Parenting is all about. You are our light, your hugs and kisses are what keeps us going. The future is yours. Good Luck.
Love always
Mom and Dad

Marvin David Sims, Jr., a miracle, was born July 29, 1986. In a family dominated by women, he was seen as a prince.

August and humble, Marvin Jr. is both respected by his peers and respectful of his elders.
He is fun-loving and giving. All of these attributes coupled with his good looks and intelligence have him on the path to accomplish great things.

Regal, Marvin Jr. stands 6 feet tall, 175 pounds and wears a size 13 shoe.
Regality will not be expected but it will be demanded.

Virtuous and spiritual leaders are almost non-existent in today's society, however, Marvin Jr. posesses both of these qualities. He was a active member of the Boy Scouts of America and he is a devout Christian.

Industrious and innovative, Marvin Jr. will have no problem making his dreams come to fruition.

Nobility will be no stranger to Marvin Jr. Regardless of what career path Marvin Jr. pursues, he will be renowned, loved and revered.

Marvin Jr.

You were born a prince...the kingship is yours for the making. Continue on the road to success. Stay strong, determined, focused, humble and kind and your kingdom shall fluorish. You make us proud of your royal family.
Love,
Terra and Grandma

To Marvin D. Sims, Jr.,

Achieve the goals that you set for yourself

Believe that you can accomplish anything that you set out to do

Captivate those that are watching, God has blessed you with many talents

Dream for the sake of not settling for your present circumstances

Fortify your mind with knowledge gained from paupers and kings...and those in between

Each day of your life can bring a lesson to you. You will have lots of experiences, both good and bad. Learn from your experiences. Don't let them dictate how you as a person will be, especially the negative ones. If the above letters were grades, an F would be a good thing! Always turn what may be a dismal situation into a useful and positive learning experience. I've watched you grow to be a brilliant young man. Your brilliance is just beginning. I love you and I am so proud of your accomplishments!

-Your God Mother,
Say Cee

Christopher M. Smith

Christopher,
It has truly been a pleasure watching you grow from a curious, rambunctious, funny little boy into such a wonderful, caring young man. Thanks for the wonderful memories. Continue to strive for excellence in all that you do and success will come your way. Remember with God all things are possible. We are very proud of you! Congratulations and we love you.

CLOSING

Colophon

Jostens Printing and Publishing Division at State College, Pennsylvania printed 400 copies of the 2004 Euclidian. The pages were printed on Gloss 191 paper stock and included 80 pages of full color. All pages were created using Adobe InDesign 2.0 running on a Macintosh G4 computer. The operating system was OS X 10.2.3. The G4 had 1 GB of RAM and a 120 GB hard drive and all files were backed up onto a pair of fire wire drives connected to the G4. A 21" color, two page monitor working with a 17" flat screen monitor made page layouts much easier. An iBook lap top computer was also used to take data back and forth between school land home. Almost all of the pictures in the yearbook were digital. The major exceptions were the pictures submitted in the Parent Patron section of the book. Most were taken with a Nikon D100 SLR digital camera with others being taken with either a Nikon Coolpix 990 or Coolpix 995 digital camera. The images were processed with Adobe Photoshop 7.0. Microsoft Excel was used to make charts and keep databases for the students. The index was produced using Jostens Last Name First program. Copy was printed out on either a Hewlett Packard 970Cse Inkjet or HP 3330 Laser printer. All the pages were sent to Jostens on CD ROMs since floppy disks can't hold enough information. The cover was designed by the Jostens Art Department. Pages were submitted to the plant on five deadlines: November 3, December 3, December 29, January 26 and February 26. Since the final deadline was in late February nothing that occurred after that time could be included in the book. The pages were submitted in double page spreads. The picture patron option was again very popular with sixty students having their pictures included on almost nine pages. For the second year the picture patrons were in full color. Also a high percentage of the student ordered their yearbook with their name imprinted on the cover for easy identification. Some students ordered the three CD set of digital pictures that contained most of the pictures that appeared in the yearbook in full color plus many others that didn't make it into the book. The files were store in JPEG format and were accessible using most computers.

Thank You

The staff of the 2004 Euclidian would like to extend thanks to all who helped to make this book possible. First and foremost, thanks have to go to the adviser, Mr. Bill Von Benken for the many long hours of hard work and planning that had to be put in to get the entire operation going and to keep it going. Others to be thanked are: Ohio School Pictures, Inc., for taking the team pictures and the senior and underclass and staff pictures. Jostens Yearbook Company for putting it all together in such an artistic manner, Mrs. Jennifer Beatty for all the time she spent arranging photography dates and supplying needed materials, Mrs. Marsha Knauss for all the time and work she did trying to get the senior and underclass pictures taken and chosen, and all the writers and photographers who contributed their time, and last but not least, the entire student body at Euclid High School without which the book could not exist.

Staff

Many people helped in some way with the 2004 Euclidian. Some wrote stories while others worked on the laying out of the book. Jackie Janda, Emily Mc Ilvaine and Erin Rice did a lot of work with creating the collage. John Haynes and Holly Yanacek did a lot of story writing and helped with laying out the pages. Other students who helped in various ways were Andrea Tarach, Amelia Mehtar, and Michelle Zudic.

Disclaimer

The 2003-2004 school year is history. Many interesting and significant events occurred during that time and the Euclidian tried to cover as many of them as possible. This was difficult due to the limited staff. If we missed something, we are sorry. We sincerely apologize for any errors or omissions that occurred in the book but this is a single printing of a high school yearbook and errors will occur.

VISITING THE MAGIC KINGDOM

Marching Band members had a fun time visiting Disney World in the fall

Sarah Candela, Jessica Vandegrift, Michael Valentino, Susan Hogue, Rachel Sova, Courtney Raught, Anthem Doolan, Cory Shy, Matt Kushan and Robbie Vazquez were having a good time as they posed in front of the Mickeys in front of Magic Kingdom..

The High School Marching Band and Orchestra took a trip to Walt Disney World in Orlando, Florida to march in the "Magic Music Days" parade. The group left on November 20, 2003 for their 22 hour bus trip down to the "most magical place on earth." Before reaching the Disney All-Star Resort, they stopped to enjoy the day at Cocoa Beach.

The band visited a different Disney park each of the four days they were there: Magis Kingdom (where the parade and orchestra performance took place), Animal Kingdom, Epcot, and MGM Studios. Aside from the theme parks, they also enjoyed other places, including Downtown Disney, The House of Blues, The Fort, and Planet Hollywood.

GOING FOR THE GOLD

Student Council sponsors Junior Olympics between classes as a fund raiser

On Friday, January 30, 2004 Student Council was able to hold it's Junior Olympics after having been delayed from the previous Friday in which classes were cancelled because of the snow. Each of the classes sponsored a team and the staff also fielded a team to compete against each other in such events as finding a piece of gum in a pie plate full of powder without using your hands, a pie eating contest, a relay race, a toilet paper wrapping contest and a tug of war to determine the winners. The teachers and the sophomores were in the top two places and the winner was decided by a tug of war which the sophomores won after a fierce battle. The event was a lot of fun for all participants and spectators and Student Council made money from it.

Trying to find the gum in a pie pan full of powder was a dusty job.

Mobile Teacher, Ms. Shannon Setser really got wrapped up in her work.

Mr. Al Bartucci was the master of ceremonies

Right: The sophomores tugged their way to victory.

Above and Right: Mr. Morris Ervin shows how he can walk on his hands and how he and Archie Smith are friends.

Members of the sophomore class show off their trophy.
